BRENDAN NGEHSI NEWANFORBI, Plaintiff, v. INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiff BRENDAN NGEHSI NEWANFORBI brings this action for damages against Defendants KEELY DODD, GARY NOGUCHI, JOSEELYN ROJO, the CALIFORNIA DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS AND REHABILITATION ("CDCR"), and DOES 1 through 20, arising from the deliberate fabrication and ratification of a procedurally void CDCR Form 1502-DR Discharge Review Report that has unlawfully retained Plaintiff on parole supervision since November 19, 2025, depriving him of liberty, economic opportunity, and dignity in violation of California statutory and common law.

2. Plaintiff was entitled to discharge from parole absent a lawful, individualized good-cause finding on or after December 2, 2021—one year after his release to parole on December 2, 2020. (Penal Code § 3001(a)(2).) No such good cause has ever been stated, documented, or demonstrated. Instead, Defendants have intentionally vitiated the Legislature's directive by applying fabricated categorical eligibility rules, relying on a treatment-completion standard that is structurally impossible to satisfy, and executing a discharge review so devoid of individualized assessment that it identified a different parolee by name. These acts are not administrative errors; they are the deliberate subversion of mandatory statutory duties by state actors who knew their conduct was unlawful.

3. As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiff has suffered and continues to suffer: (a) deprivation of liberty through 24/7 GPS monitoring, curfew, geographic restrictions, mandatory sex offender treatment, warrantless searches, and the constant threat of reincarceration; (b) documented economic losses exceeding $109,408 in lost CDL wages for the years 2022–2024 alone, measured against his but-for earning capacity of $72,000 per year as a journeyman CDL holder, with losses continuing to accrue at approximately $6,000 per month; (c) out-of-pocket compliance costs; (d) severe emotional distress; and (e) reputational harm from being labeled "non-compliant" and having "failed" a treatment program where completion is structurally unattainable.

4. Plaintiff seeks compensatory damages, including economic damages measured by W-2-documented wage losses, loss-of-liberty per diem damages, compliance costs, non-economic damages, and punitive damages against each individual Defendant whose willful, oppressive, and malicious conduct warrants exemplary relief.

PARTIES

5. Plaintiff BRENDAN NGEHSI NEWANFORBI is a natural person residing in Stockton, San Joaquin County, California. He holds a valid Class A Commercial Driver's License ("CDL") and, but for Defendants' unlawful conduct, possesses the education, training, and qualifications to earn approximately $72,000 per year as a journeyman CDL truck driver. He is currently under the unlawful parole supervision of CDCR's Division of Adult Parole Operations ("DAPO"), Stockton 2 GPS Parole Unit, Region N.

6. Defendant KEELY DODD (Badge #6462) is a Parole Administrator employed by CDCR/DAPO. On information and belief, Dodd's principal office and duty station are located at the DAPO Northern Region Headquarters in Sacramento County. Dodd is the final approving official whose electronic signature on Plaintiff's CDCR Form 1502-DR on November 19, 2025, transformed subordinate field recommendations into a binding, enforceable administrative decree that extended the State's physical and legal jurisdiction over Plaintiff. Defendant Dodd was not a passive reviewer. She was the final regional signatory whose approval made the discharge denial operative. The report presented to her was facially defective: it applied mutually exclusive parole-term frameworks, relied on a fabricated 6.5-year supervision rule, identified a different parolee by name ("Eagan"), omitted required good-cause findings and CTM/Form 3043 documentation, used an obsolete review form, and reflected no service on Plaintiff. Despite those patent defects, Dodd elected the "Review/Decision" option, approved "Discharge Denied/No Action," and thereby caused Plaintiff's continued custodial restraint. Her administrative comment—"Concur with the Unit Supervisor, continued parole supervision is warranted and recommended at this time"—demonstrates that she endorsed the entirety of the defective report without correction, remand, or independent analysis. Dodd possessed the authority to reject, correct, or remand the defective report and chose not to exercise it. These facial defects alone establish that Dodd approved a legally void instrument. Additionally, on information and belief, as the Northern Region Parole Administrator responsible for Sex Offender Management Program ("SOMP") cases, Dodd had actual or constructive knowledge of the April 17, 2025 amendments to 15 CCR § 3574. Dodd is sued individually for all causes of action pursuant to Government Code § 820(a).

7. The CDCR Form 1502-DR Discharge Review Report dated November 12, 2025, which forms the basis of this action, was prepared by Parole Agent Long Moua (Badge #7472), a CDCR/DAPO employee assigned to the Stockton 2 GPS Parole Unit. Plaintiff has identified the authoring agent but elects not to name him as a defendant in this action. Agent Moua is referenced herein solely as a non-party whose acts are relevant to establish the factual predicate for the supervisory and administrative failures of the named Defendants. The report as authored contains multiple material defects—including fabricated eligibility criteria, contradictory treatment characterizations, and the use of an obsolete review form—all of which were ratified by Defendant Noguchi and approved by Defendant Dodd. The specific defects are detailed in paragraphs 25 through 27 below. CDCR bears vicarious liability under Government Code § 815.2(a) for Agent Moua's acts and omissions within the course and scope of his employment.

8. Defendant GARY NOGUCHI (Badge #7284) is a Unit Supervisor employed by CDCR/DAPO. Supervisor Noguchi reviewed and ratified the report on November 14, 2025. His written comments contain a copy-paste transcription error referencing a different parolee—"Eagan"—by name, providing documentary proof that no individualized review of Plaintiff's case occurred. Noguchi assessed Plaintiff as "Stable 6/LSCMI 5," placing him at a Level 2 below-average risk, yet simultaneously endorsed retention—a recommendation that contradicts his own risk assessment. Noguchi further commended Plaintiff for "maintaining compliance with parole supervision" while simultaneously endorsing the adverse recommendation he ratified—an internally contradictory characterization that demonstrates the review was a template-driven, bureaucratic exercise devoid of individualized assessment. Supervisor Noguchi is sued individually for all causes of action.

9. Defendant JOSEELYN ROJO is a Parole Agent employed by CDCR/DAPO who assumed responsibility as Agent of Record on November 19, 2025. Agent Rojo failed to serve the finalized report on Plaintiff. The "Parolee Provided Copy (Date)" field on page 5 of the 1502-DR is blank. Neither the "Mailed By" nor "Delivered By (Initials)" fields are completed. This failure deprived Plaintiff of any opportunity to challenge the adverse decision through administrative or judicial channels within the applicable time limitations. Agent Rojo is sued individually for all causes of action.

10. Defendant CALIFORNIA DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS AND REHABILITATION ("CDCR") is a department of the State of California with its headquarters in Sacramento County. CDCR is vicariously liable under Government Code § 815.2(a) for injuries proximately caused by the acts and omissions of its employees—including Defendants Dodd, Noguchi, and Rojo, as well as non-party Agent Moua—acting within the course and scope of their employment. CDCR is also directly liable under Government Code § 815.6 for its breach of the mandatory duties imposed by Penal Code § 3001(a)(2) and Title 15 CCR § 3574, which were designed to protect against the specific kind of injury Plaintiff has suffered.

11. Defendants DOES 1 through 20 are sued herein under fictitious names pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure § 474. The true names and capacities of additional Doe defendants, if any, are presently unknown to Plaintiff. These Doe defendants do not include Parole Agent Long Moua (Badge #7472), who is identified in Paragraph 7 as a non-party actor for whose conduct Defendant CDCR bears vicarious liability under Government Code § 815.2(a). Plaintiff will amend this complaint to allege the true names and capacities of any Doe defendants when ascertained.

12. At all times relevant, each individual Defendant acted within the course and scope of employment with CDCR.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

13. This Court has jurisdiction pursuant to Article VI, Section 10 of the California Constitution and Code of Civil Procedure § 410.10. The amount in controversy exceeds $25,000, establishing this as an unlimited civil case.

14. Venue is proper in Sacramento County pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure § 393(b), which provides that an action against a public officer for an act done by the officer in virtue of his or her office may be tried in the county where the cause, or some part of it, arose. This is an action against state officers—principally Parole Administrator Keely Dodd—for acts done in virtue of their office. The final operative act that deprived Plaintiff of his liberty was Dodd's November 19, 2025 electronic ratification of the defective CDCR Form 1502-DR, which converted field-level recommendations into binding state action denying Plaintiff's discharge. On information and belief, Dodd performed that act from DAPO Northern Region Headquarters in Sacramento County using statewide DAPO systems. The cause, or a substantial part of the cause, therefore arose in Sacramento County.

15. Venue is additionally proper in Sacramento County under Code of Civil Procedure § 395(a) because Defendant Dodd's official office is located in Sacramento County and Defendant CDCR resides in Sacramento County for venue purposes.

COMPLIANCE WITH THE GOVERNMENT CLAIMS ACT

16. Plaintiff has fully complied with the presentment requirements of the Government Claims Act, Government Code §§ 900–915.4. On March 21, 2026, Plaintiff presented a government tort claim to the California Government Claims Program, the appropriate state claims entity for claims against CDCR as a state department. (Gov. Code § 915(b).) A true and correct copy of the government tort claim as presented is attached as Exhibit F.

17. The California Government Claims Program did not act on Plaintiff's claim within the 45-day period prescribed by Government Code § 912.4(a). Plaintiff's claim is therefore deemed rejected by operation of law as of May 11, 2026—forty-five days after presentment. (Gov. Code § 912.4(c).) No written notice of any action on the claim was received. (Gov. Code § 913.)

18. This action is timely filed within the two years following the deemed rejection of the claim by operation of law. (Gov. Code § 945.6(a)(2).) Because no written notice of rejection was ever received, the two-year limitations period applies.

TIMELINESS

19. Each cause of action is timely under the applicable statutes of limitation:

a. Breach of Mandatory Duty (Gov. Code § 815.6): Two-year statute of limitations under CCP § 335.1. The initial breach occurred on November 19, 2025; each day of continued unlawful supervision constitutes a new breach under the continuing-tort doctrine.

b. False Imprisonment (CCP § 340(c)): One year, subject to the continuing-tort doctrine: each day of ongoing unlawful custodial supervision from November 19, 2025 onward constitutes a separate act of restraint. Under the continuing tort doctrine, the statute of limitations for false imprisonment runs anew each day the unlawful restraint continues. Plaintiff's false imprisonment claim is timely as to all damages accruing within one year of the filing of this complaint, and each day of continued supervision from November 19, 2025, to the present constitutes a separately actionable violation.

c. IIED (CCP § 335.1): Two years. Same continuing-tort analysis.

d. Negligence (CCP § 335.1): Two years. Same continuing-tort analysis.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

Plaintiff's Parole Status, Employment Capacity, and Treatment History

20. Plaintiff was released to parole on December 2, 2020, with a Controlling Discharge Date of December 2, 2030. He is required to register pursuant to Penal Code §§ 290–290.023 and participates in the SOMP as mandated by Penal Code § 3008(d). His supervision category is "SA" (Sex Offender Active) with a CSRA Score of 2 (Moderate). He is supervised by the Stockton 2 GPS Parole Unit, Region N.

21. Absent good cause, Plaintiff could have been discharged at any point after not less than one year from December 2, 2020—that is, on or after December 2, 2021. Penal Code § 3001(a)(2) provides that persons required to register under § 290, who have been on parole continuously for at least one year, "shall be discharged" unless the department recommends retention and the Board of Parole Hearings finds "good cause." No good cause has ever been articulated, documented, or demonstrated for Plaintiff's continued retention. Instead of following the law, Defendants decided to intentionally vitiate the Legislature's directive through fabricated categorical rules and a structurally impossible treatment-completion standard.

22. As of November 2025, Plaintiff had completed nearly five years on parole—far beyond the one-year threshold after which California law mandates discharge absent good cause.

23. Plaintiff is a qualified journeyman CDL truck driver. His W-2 records and Centerline Drivers wage documentation reflect a regular hourly rate of $33.35 and a premium rate of $50.03 for CDL work. Plaintiff's but-for earning capacity is $72,000 per year as a journeyman CDL holder. Due to the restrictions imposed by unlawful parole supervision—including 24/7 GPS monitoring, curfew, geographic restrictions, mandatory treatment attendance consuming 6–8 hours per week, and employment limitations—Plaintiff has been unable to pursue unrestricted CDL employment. Typical journeyman CDL positions require multi-day, long-haul routes incompatible with Plaintiff's GPS, curfew, and treatment schedule restrictions. His W-2 records reflect documented lost CDL wages of no less than $109,408 for the years 2022–2024 alone, measured against his but-for earning capacity. These losses continue to accrue at approximately $6,000 per month for each month Plaintiff remains unable to pursue unrestricted CDL employment due to Defendants' conduct.

24. Plaintiff has participated in the HOPE Psychotherapy, Inc. ("HOPE") treatment program continuously since May 2021. During that time, he has been assigned to approximately nine different clinicians due to HOPE's extraordinary staff turnover—a pattern that destroyed continuity of care, caused lost treatment records and homework, and forced repeated phase restarts. Despite these systemic disruptions attributable to CDCR and its contracted providers, Plaintiff has advanced to Core Phase, Block 1, Module 4 of 7, demonstrating good-faith participation and progress. HOPE has never certified Plaintiff as having "completed" treatment. This characterization is not the product of an individualized clinical assessment; it is the automatic output of HOPE's blanket retention policy under which no parolee can complete treatment prior to discharge from parole, regardless of clinical progress, compliance, or risk reduction. This structurally impossible standard was judicially condemned in In re Dwyer (San Mateo Super. Ct. Case No. SC-080355A/HC-3020, Order Mar. 20, 2023) and the April 2025 regulatory amendments were enacted specifically to correct it.

The November 2025 Discharge Review

25. On or about November 12, 2025, Parole Agent Long Moua prepared CDCR Form 1502-DR (Discharge Review Report) for Plaintiff. A true and correct copy of this report is attached as Exhibit A. The report is defective in multiple material respects:

a. Mutually Exclusive Statutory Frameworks. The report classifies Plaintiff's case as "Case Type: PC3000(b)(5)(B)"—a provision creating a maximum parole term of five years extendable to seven—while simultaneously applying a "10-year parole term" narrative to deny discharge. These two statutory frameworks are mutually exclusive and cannot apply to the same individual. Defendant Dodd approved this legal impossibility on its face.

b. Fabricated 6.5-Year Minimum. The authoring agent fabricated a "6.5-year" minimum supervision requirement unsupported by any enacted law—an underground regulation prohibited by Government Code § 11340.5.

c. Fabricated Policy 19-03 Exclusion. The authoring agent applied a fabricated Policy 19-03 eligibility exclusion for "10-year parole terms" that does not exist in any published version of that policy.

d. Contradictory Treatment Characterizations. The report simultaneously commends Plaintiff for "maintaining compliance with parole supervision" while endorsing retention for incomplete treatment and non-compliance—internally contradictory characterizations that demonstrate a template-driven, predetermined outcome.

e. Scoring Without Lawful Application. The report lists individual objective scores but never demonstrates that the scoring rubric was lawfully completed, totaled, interpreted, or tied to any individualized good-cause determination under Penal Code § 3001(a)(2) and Title 15 § 3574. The scores were never aggregated on the form, never connected to the applicable scoring bands printed on the form itself, and never explained in relation to the discharge recommendation. The scoring section was treated as a mechanical formality rather than an actual decision-making tool.

f. The "Eagan" Error. Supervisor Noguchi's written comments reference a different parolee—"Eagan"—by name. This is not a typographical error; it is documentary proof that no individualized review of Plaintiff's case occurred. Verifying the identity of the person being deprived of liberty is the most fundamental ministerial duty an administrator has.

g. Absence of Mandatory CTM Documentation and Good-Cause Findings. The report lacks any Containment Team Meeting findings, any CDCR Form 3043, any treatment provider signature, and any written "good cause" retention finding—all required by 15 CCR § 3574(e)–(f) before retention. The November 2025 review was conducted using the obsolete CDCR Form 1502-DR (Rev. 01/22) instead of the Form 3043 (Rev. 11/24) mandated by regulations adopted April 17, 2025. This bypassed the structured scoring rubric, objective evaluation matrix, and clinical professional participation designed to prevent arbitrary decisions.

h. Failure to Provide Notice. The "Parolee Provided Copy (Date)" field on page 5 is blank. Neither "Mailed By" nor "Delivered By (Initials)" fields are completed. Plaintiff was never served with the report, depriving him of any opportunity to challenge the adverse decision.

The Parole Administrator's Ratification

26. The final step in the 1502-DR process required Parole Administrator Keely Dodd's personal review and signature. She performed that review on November 19, 2025, operating under her official badge number 6462, and despite the facial and obvious defects detailed above, concurred without modification, correction, or remand. Her signature transformed the field-level errors into an enforceable administrative decree that bound Plaintiff to continued GPS monitoring, treatment obligations, and loss of liberty beyond the statutory discharge point. Because § 3574 expressly requires documented Containment Team Meetings, good-cause findings, and individualized risk assessment before retention, and because Penal Code § 3001(a)(2) mandates discharge absent such findings after one year of continuous parole, Dodd's ratification constituted a direct breach of the mandatory duties imposed to prevent exactly the arbitrary retention Plaintiff has endured.

27. But for Dodd's approval, the denial was not final and Plaintiff would not have remained subject to continued GPS monitoring, curfew, travel restrictions, mandatory treatment attendance, and the threat of reincarceration after November 19, 2025. Her signature is the single, proximate act that converted advisory field recommendations into binding state action depriving Plaintiff of liberty.

Defendants' Knowledge That Their Conduct Was Unlawful

28. In March 2023, a California Superior Court found that CDCR and its contracted treatment providers operate under a policy where completion is structurally impossible prior to parole discharge. (In re Frederick Dwyer, No. SC-080355A (San Mateo Super. Ct. Mar. 20, 2023) (Exhibit B).) The court found that CDCR's practice of requiring treatment "for the entire term of parole, apparently without reference to the individualized performance of each parolee" vitiates the Legislature's directive.

29. In December 2023, a second court overruled CDCR's demurrer in Alliance for Constitutional Sex Offense Laws v. Macomber, No. 23STCP02378 (Sacramento Super. Ct.) (Exhibit C), holding that a petition alleging these exact statewide policies states a valid cause of action for ordinary mandate under § 1085.

30. The resulting litigation produced the April 17, 2025 amendments to 15 CCR § 3574, made permanent by the Office of Administrative Law Certificate of Compliance (OAL Matter No. 2025-0321-01, effective April 28, 2025) (Exhibit D)—amendments confirming the prior system was deficient. These amendments explicitly provide that "supervised persons may complete a sex offender management program before discharge from parole, as contemplated by PC section 3008(d)." By November 2025, every Defendant had constructive knowledge that the practices applied to Plaintiff had been judicially condemned and legislatively repudiated.

31. Defendants' conduct was undertaken with knowledge that Plaintiff's rights were being violated. By November 2025, all CDCR defendants had constructive knowledge—through Dwyer, Macomber, and the April 2025 regulatory amendments—that CDCR's blanket retention policy and treatment completion linkage had been judicially condemned. On information and belief, Dodd, as Northern Region Parole Administrator responsible for SOMP cases, had actual or constructive knowledge of the § 3574 reforms and the judicial condemnation of the prior framework. Defendants' deliberate continuation of these practices, ratification of a report relying on fabricated eligibility rules, and withholding of notice from a person under their custodial authority constitute extreme and outrageous conduct.

32. The report's citation of parole violations (failure to attend treatment, failure to charge GPS) as aggravating factors is also defective. These violations were all resolved with verbal reprimands—the lowest possible sanction—and were not deemed serious enough to warrant revocation. Under 15 CCR § 3574(f), violations do not automatically justify retention; CDCR must demonstrate "good cause" tied to individualized risk assessment, which the report fails to do.

The Nature of Plaintiff's Injuries

33. Continued Unlawful Parole Supervision: As a direct result of the defective discharge review, Plaintiff has been and continues to be subjected to ongoing parole supervision—including continuous GPS monitoring, movement restrictions, mandatory sex offender treatment attendance (multiple sessions per week), curfew restrictions, employment limitations, and restrictions on association—without lawful authority. Every day of continued supervision from November 19, 2025 to the present constitutes a separate act of false imprisonment.

34. Loss of Liberty (Per Diem Value): The conditions of parole supervision constitute a substantial deprivation of liberty. Plaintiff is subject to continuous GPS tracking 24 hours per day, 7 days per week; a curfew; geographic restrictions; mandatory treatment sessions multiple times per week; warrantless searches; and restrictions on association and employment. These conditions are functionally equivalent to custodial restraint. The per diem value of this loss of liberty is substantial and will be established according to proof at trial, but in no event less than $100 per day.

35. Documented Economic Losses—Lost CDL Wages: Plaintiff's W-2 records reflect lost CDL wages of no less than $109,408 for the years 2022–2024 alone, measured against his but-for earning capacity of $72,000 per year as a journeyman CDL holder. As evidenced by the Centerline Drivers Wage Notice dated October 31, 2024 (attached as Exhibit E), Plaintiff possesses active CDL qualifications commanding regular pay of $33.35/hour and premium pay of $50.03/hour. The conditions of unlawful parole supervision—including mandatory HOPE treatment sessions consuming 6–8 hours per week, curfew restrictions, GPS monitoring, geographic limitations, and the threat of reincarceration for any technical violation—have directly prevented Plaintiff from pursuing and maintaining unrestricted CDL employment commensurate with his qualifications and earning capacity. These losses continue to accrue at approximately $6,000 per month for each month Plaintiff remains unable to pursue unrestricted CDL employment due to Defendants' conduct. The pre-November 19, 2025 economic losses flow from the broader unlawful retention regime maintained by CDCR and its agents; the post-November 19, 2025 economic losses are directly and proximately caused by Defendant Dodd's ratification of the defective report, which made the continued denial of discharge operative and enforceable.

36. Out-of-Pocket Costs of Forced Compliance: Plaintiff has incurred and continues to incur direct out-of-pocket costs as a result of his unlawful supervision, including but not limited to:

a. Transportation costs to and from mandatory HOPE treatment sessions (approximately 30 miles round trip, multiple times per week), at the IRS standard mileage rate;

b. Time costs associated with treatment attendance, estimated at 6–8 hours per week (including group sessions, individual sessions, and travel time), valued at a reasonable hourly rate;

c. Program fees and costs associated with compliance, including polygraph examinations and other mandated assessments;

d. Costs of maintaining GPS equipment, including charging requirements and related expenses.

37. Emotional Distress: Plaintiff has suffered and continues to suffer severe emotional distress as a direct result of Defendants' conduct, including:

a. Pervasive anxiety from continuous GPS monitoring imposed on a fabricated basis;

b. Depression, sleep disruption, and hypervigilance caused by living under constant threat of reincarceration on procedurally void grounds;

c. Humiliation and indignity from being classified as "non-compliant" based on a review that identified a different person by name;

d. Reputational harm from being labeled as having "failed" a treatment program where completion is structurally unattainable;

e. The psychological toll of being trapped in a system with no achievable exit—a system judicially condemned as vitiating the Legislature's directive.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

BREACH OF MANDATORY DUTY (Gov. Code §§ 815.2, 815.6)
(Against CDCR)

38. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

39. Government Code § 815.6 provides: "Where a public entity is under a mandatory duty imposed by an enactment that is designed to protect against the risk of a particular kind of injury, the public entity is liable for an injury of that kind proximately caused by its failure to discharge the duty unless the public entity establishes that it exercised reasonable diligence to discharge the duty." CDCR is also vicariously liable under Government Code § 815.2(a) for injuries proximately caused by the acts and omissions of its employees acting within the course and scope of their employment.

40. Penal Code § 3001(a)(2) imposes a mandatory duty to discharge parolees who have been on parole continuously for at least one year, unless retention is recommended with good cause. This duty was designed to protect against arbitrary continued supervision—the specific injury Plaintiff has suffered. The mandatory language "shall be discharged" creates a mandatory duty within the meaning of Government Code § 815.6. (Haggis v. City of Los Angeles (2000) 22 Cal.4th 490, 498; State of California v. Superior Court (Kellogg) (1997) 15 Cal.4th 1055, 1064–65.)

41. Title 15 CCR § 3574, effective April 17, 2025, codifies additional mandatory procedural safeguards including: CTMs at specified intervals; written good-cause findings on CDCR Form 3043; delivery of completed Form 3043 within 30 calendar days of the CTM; treatment provider signatures; and separation of treatment completion from parole discharge as "legally separate decisions" (§ 3574(f)(1)).

42. CDCR, acting through its employees—including Defendants Dodd, Noguchi, and Rojo, as well as the authoring parole agent—breached these mandatory duties in the following specific respects:

a. The authoring parole agent applied a Case Type classification (PC 3000(b)(5)(B)) that contradicts the ten-year parole term used to deny discharge, simultaneously enforcing two mutually exclusive statutory frameworks, as ratified and approved by the named supervisory Defendants;

b. The authoring parole agent fabricated a "6.5-year" minimum supervision requirement unsupported by any enacted law—an underground regulation prohibited by Government Code § 11340.5—as ratified and approved by the named supervisory Defendants;

c. The authoring parole agent applied a fabricated Policy 19-03 eligibility exclusion for "10-year parole terms" that does not exist in any published version of that policy, as ratified and approved by the named supervisory Defendants;

d. The report included contradictory treatment characterizations and failed to aggregate mandatory scoring criteria;

e. Defendant Noguchi ratified the report despite facial defects including the "Eagan" copy-paste error, the fabricated rules, and his own contradictory commendation of Plaintiff;

f. Defendant Dodd, as the final approving official on the report, signed the 1502-DR without ensuring compliance with Title 15 § 3574's CTM and documentation requirements or Penal Code § 3001(a)(2)'s discharge mandate, despite facial defects—including the "Eagan" error and fabricated 6.5-year timeline—that supplied actual notice the review was not individualized and the eligibility criteria were ultra vires;

g. The assigned parole agents (including non-party Agent Moua) failed to initiate CTMs or ensure completion of Form 3043 as required by § 3574;

h. Defendant Rojo failed to serve the finalized report on Plaintiff.

43. CDCR did not exercise reasonable diligence. Defendants applied practices judicially condemned in Dwyer (2023) and continued deficient procedures despite the April 2025 regulatory amendments enacted specifically to correct those deficiencies.

44. As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiff has suffered: continued parole supervision including continuous GPS monitoring, geographic restrictions, curfew, and mandatory treatment attendance; documented economic losses of no less than $109,408 in lost CDL wages for 2022–2024; ongoing wage losses of approximately $6,000 per month; loss of liberty valued at no less than $100 per day; out-of-pocket compliance costs; and severe emotional distress.

45. For the avoidance of doubt, liability for the individual Defendants' breach of the mandatory duties imposed by Penal Code § 3001(a)(2) and Title 15 CCR § 3574 is governed by Government Code § 820(a), which provides that a public employee is liable for injury caused by his or her act or omission to the same extent as a private person. The violation of these mandatory duties constitutes negligence per se, and individual liability is pursued through the Second through Fourth Causes of Action below.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

FALSE IMPRISONMENT

(Against All Defendants)

46. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

47. The elements of false imprisonment are: (1) nonconsensual, intentional confinement of a person; (2) without lawful privilege; and (3) for an appreciable period. (Fermino v. Fedco, Inc. (1994) 7 Cal.4th 701, 715.) Government Code § 820.4 does not exonerate a public employee from liability for false imprisonment.

48. Defendants nonconsensually confined Plaintiff through the parole supervision regime described herein. Plaintiff did not consent to supervision beyond the statutory discharge point. The restraints—continuous GPS monitoring, curfew, geographic restrictions, mandatory treatment, warrantless searches, employment limitations, and the constant threat of reincarceration—constitute confinement within the meaning of false imprisonment law.

49. This restraint was without lawful privilege. Lawful privilege requires compliance with the mandatory discharge framework—including lawful eligibility criteria, good-cause findings, CTM documentation, and notice. Where the authority for continued custody rests on fabricated rules and a review identifying a different person by name, privilege is absent. (Sullivan v. County of Los Angeles (1974) 12 Cal.3d 710, 718–720.)

50. Defendant Dodd's November 19, 2025 signature was the final, proximate cause of Plaintiff's continued unlawful restraint from that date forward. Absent her concurrence, the defective field recommendation would not have become binding CDCR policy. Her signature is the final regional act that extended Plaintiff's constructive custody beyond the point at which Penal Code § 3001(a)(2) required discharge. She acted without good-cause findings, CTM documentation, or statutorily valid eligibility criteria, making any privilege to confine void from November 19, 2025 onward.

51. Defendant Noguchi is liable for the false imprisonment caused by his ratification of the facially defective report, which created the factual predicate for Dodd's approval and the continuation of Plaintiff's confinement. The authoring parole agent's fabrications—for which CDCR bears vicarious liability—supplied the defective foundation upon which the supervisory chain relied. Defendant Rojo's failure to serve the report on Plaintiff deprived him of any opportunity to challenge the adverse decision through administrative or judicial channels, thereby perpetuating the unlawful restraint and concealing its existence from the person most harmed by it.

52. Every day of continued supervision from November 19, 2025 to the present constitutes a continuing act of unlawful restraint. Each day gives rise to separate damages.

53. As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiff has suffered deprivation of liberty valued at no less than $100 per day from November 19, 2025 to the present; documented economic losses; out-of-pocket costs of forced compliance; and severe emotional distress.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

INTENTIONAL INFLICTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

(Against All Individual Defendants)

54. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

55. The elements of intentional infliction of emotional distress are: (1) extreme and outrageous conduct by the defendant; (2) intention to cause or reckless disregard of the probability of causing emotional distress; (3) severe emotional distress suffered by the plaintiff; and (4) actual and proximate causation. (Hughes v. Pair (2009) 46 Cal.4th 1035, 1050–1051.)

56. Defendants engaged in extreme and outrageous conduct that exceeded all bounds of decency tolerated in a civilized society, including:

a. Ratified and approved a discharge review that applied fabricated eligibility rules and a fabricated 6.5-year minimum to deny discharge;

b. Conducted and approved a "review" so devoid of individualized assessment that it identified a different parolee by name;

c. Continued applying practices judicially condemned in Dwyer two and a half years earlier and after regulatory amendments were enacted to correct those deficiencies;

d. Withheld notice to prevent any administrative or judicial challenge;

e. Uncritically adopted a treatment provider's non-completion characterization that is the automatic output of a blanket retention policy.

57. Defendant Dodd's decision to finalize Plaintiff's discharge denial despite a facial "Eagan" misidentification, a case-type/parole-term contradiction, and the invocation of a 6.5-year rule nowhere codified in any statute or regulation was undertaken with at least reckless disregard for Plaintiff's liberty and emotional well-being. Ratifying a document that on its face contained a different parolee's name, invented eligibility rules unsupported by any statute, and zero evidence of the mandatory Containment Team process required by § 3574 was extreme and outrageous conduct by a high-ranking official charged with protecting parolees' liberty interests. On information and belief, Dodd had actual or constructive knowledge that her approval would inflict severe emotional distress through indefinite GPS monitoring and loss of fundamental freedoms.

58. Conduct outrageous from any actor is especially so from custodial officials exercising state power over a person's liberty. (Alcorn v. Anbro Engineering, Inc. (1970) 2 Cal.3d 493, 498–499.)

59. Each Defendant acted with, at minimum, reckless disregard. By November 2025, Dwyer, Macomber, and the April 2025 § 3574 amendments provided cumulative, escalating notice that these practices were unlawful.

60. Plaintiff has suffered severe emotional distress as described in paragraph 37 above.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

NEGLIGENCE

(Against All Defendants)

61. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.

62. Each Defendant owed Plaintiff a duty of care arising from their custodial authority over him and the specific mandatory duties imposed by Penal Code §§ 3000, 3001, 3008, and Title 15 § 3574. Each individual Defendant is personally liable under Government Code § 820(a) for injuries caused by his or her acts or omissions to the same extent as a private person. The immunities of Government Code § 820.2 (discretionary immunity) do not apply because the duties breached are ministerial: the statutes use mandatory language ("shall"), specify the precise conditions for discharge, and leave no room for the exercise of policy judgment when those conditions are met.

63. Defendant Dodd owed particularized duties as the final approving official on the discharge review:

a. Duty to ensure that regional discharge decisions comply with Penal Code §§ 3000, 3001, 3008, and Title 15 § 3574;

b. Duty to reject or return for correction any discharge review that relies on non-enacted eligibility criteria, misidentifies the supervised person, or omits mandatory forms (3043) and CTM findings;

c. Duty to implement the April 2025 regulatory amendments in all Northern Region SOMP cases;

d. Duty to perform a meaningful, individualized review before signing a document that extends state jurisdiction over a person's liberty.

64. Defendant Dodd breached each of these duties by finalizing the 1502-DR as-is. She was the final approving official whose signature transformed subordinate recommendations into binding state action. As the final administrative gatekeeper, Dodd owed Plaintiff a duty of care to perform a meaningful review and reject facially defective reports. She breached that duty by concurring with a report that any reasonable administrator would have remanded for correction. Her breach foreseeably prolonged unlawful restraint from November 19, 2025 onward.

65. Defendants Noguchi and Rojo breached their respective duties of care through the following acts and omissions:

a. Ratification of a report containing fabricated eligibility criteria without independent verification;

b. Failure to conduct an individualized assessment of Plaintiff's case;

c. Ratification of a report that failed to aggregate and apply mandatory scoring criteria;

d. Ratification of a report using an obsolete form that bypassed mandatory regulatory requirements;

e. Failure to convene CTMs or ensure completion of Form 3043;

f. Ratification of a report identifying a different person by name, demonstrating the absence of any meaningful review;

g. Failure to provide notice of the decision to Plaintiff.

66. Defendants' breach of their duty of care was a substantial factor in causing Plaintiff's injuries. A reasonable supervisor or administrator in Defendants' position would have recognized that the defects in the discharge review created a foreseeable risk of prolonged unlawful supervision and resulting harm to Plaintiff. CDCR additionally bears vicarious liability for the authoring parole agent's breaches of duty under Government Code § 815.2(a).

67. As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiff has suffered the injuries described herein, including loss of liberty, documented economic losses of no less than $109,408 in lost CDL wages, ongoing wage losses of approximately $6,000 per month, out-of-pocket costs of forced compliance, and severe emotional distress.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff respectfully requests judgment in his favor and the following relief:

A. Economic Damages

1. Lost CDL wages of no less than $109,408 for the years 2022–2024, as documented by W-2 records, measured against Plaintiff's but-for earning capacity of $72,000 per year as a journeyman CDL holder;

2. Continuing lost CDL wages accruing at approximately $6,000 per month from January 2025 through the date of judgment for each month Plaintiff remains unable to pursue unrestricted CDL employment due to Defendants' conduct;

3. Out-of-pocket costs of forced compliance with unlawful parole conditions, including but not limited to transportation costs to and from mandatory treatment sessions, program fees, polygraph examinations, GPS maintenance costs, and related expenses, according to proof at trial;

4. All past and future economic losses according to proof at trial.

B. Non-Economic Damages

1. Loss of liberty from unjustified continued parole supervision, valued at no less than $100 per day from November 19, 2025 to the date of judgment;

2. Severe emotional distress, anxiety, panic, depression, sleep disruption, hypervigilance, and fear;

3. Humiliation and indignity from being classified as "non-compliant" based on a procedurally void and facially defective review;

4. Reputational harm from being labeled as having "failed" a treatment program where completion is structurally unattainable;

5. All past and future non-economic damages according to proof at trial.

C. Punitive and Exemplary Damages

1. Punitive and exemplary damages against individual Defendants Dodd, Noguchi, and Rojo in their individual capacities, in an amount sufficient to punish and deter, pursuant to Civil Code § 3294, based on Defendants' willful, oppressive, and malicious conduct, including their conscious disregard of Plaintiff's rights despite judicial condemnation of those practices—including Noguchi's ratification of a report containing a different parolee's name without correction, and Rojo's deliberate failure to serve the decision.

2. Defendant Dodd's ratification of a discharge review that (a) identified a different parolee by name, (b) applied mutually exclusive statutory frameworks to a single individual, and (c) relied on a fabricated 6.5-year eligibility rule not found in any statute or regulation was done with conscious disregard for Plaintiff's rights, constituting oppression and malice within the meaning of Civil Code § 3294. Her conduct was willful, deliberate, and undertaken with knowledge—or at minimum, reckless disregard of the fact—that the report's defects rendered the continued supervision unlawful.

D. Other Relief

1. Costs of suit incurred herein;

2. Pre-judgment and post-judgment interest as permitted by law;

3. Such other and further relief as this Court deems just and proper.

Punitive damages are sought only against individually named Defendants, not against CDCR. (Gov. Code § 818.)

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Plaintiff hereby demands a trial by jury on all issues so triable.

Circumstances of Commitment Offense (Note any weapons used or possessed during the controlling or non-controlling offense):

According to Santa Clara County Probation Officer's Report, Santa Clara Police Department officers responded to a report of sexual assault which occurred at the Santa Clara University. The Victim (V1) stated she left her friend's dormitory at 2000 hours and proceeded to her dormitory. As she was walking, a man later identified as Brendan Newanforbi, approached her from behind, picked her up and carried her approximately five feet. Newanforbi dropped V1 on the ground and inserted his fingers into her vagina. V1 screamed and resisted Newanforbi so Newanforbi fled the scene. V1 was transported to the Valley Medical Center for a SART exam. V1 sustained abrasions to her left knee, left hip area, left wrist and complained of pain to her vagina. Officers reviewed surveillance footage from cameras and showed a figure running, and a grey ford mustang fleeing the scene. On 03/03/2017, Newanforbi was stopped for speeding and taken into custody for matching the description. Newanforbi self- admitted to groping V1 and stated he had uncontrollable urges and needed help.

SUPERIOR COURT FOR THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES

ALLIANCE FOR CONSTITUTIONAL SEX OFFENSE LAWS, INC., a California non-profit corporation; CHRISTOPHER SANDAHL, an individual; JOSHUA MORALES, an individual; ALEXANDER FLORES, an individual; JOHN DOE #1, an individual; and JOHN DOE #2, an individual, Petitioners, vs. JEFF MACOMBER, in his official capacity as Secretary of the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation, Respondent.	Case No.: 23STCP02378 PETITION FOR WRIT OF MANDATE AND COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY RELIEF

INTRODUCTION

1. This action challenges certain regulations, policies, and practices of the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation, Division of Adult Parole Operations ("CDCR"), regarding its supervision of parolees who are required to register as a sex offender pursuant to Penal Code section 290, et seq. ("Registrants"). As pleaded more fully below, CDCR's regulations, policies, and practices are inconsistent with and in conflict with state law governing the supervision of Registrants on parole. Specifically, CDCR's regulations, policies, and practices are inconsistent with and in conflict with the statutory requirements of the "Containment Model" of parole supervision codified in Penal Code section 3008, subds. (d)(1)-(d)(4), and related statutes (hereinafter, "Section 3008(d)").

2. Effective July 1, 2012, Section 3008(d) requires each Registrant on parole to "successfully complete a sex offender management program . . . as a condition of parole." (Cal. Penal Code § 3008, subd. (d)(2), emphasis added.) This management program includes two main components: (1) a psychological counseling and treatment program, and (2) periodic polygraph examinations to verify compliance with parole conditions and other matters incident to supervision or treatment. (Id. § 3008, subd. (d)(3); § 9003.)

3. Critically, the Legislature did not intend a Registrant's participation in either component of the management program to be indefinite. Nor did the Legislature intend a Registrant's participation in the management program to be for the entire length of parole in all cases. To the contrary, the Legislature declared that "the length of the period in the program shall be not less than one year, up to the entire period of parole, as determined by the certified sex offender management professional in consultation with the parole officer and as approved by the court." (Cal. Penal Code § 3008, subd. (d)(2), emphasis added.) In other words, Section 3008(d) requires CDCR to provide Registrants the opportunity to "complete," and thereby terminate their participation in, the management program as early as one year after placement on parole.

4. Yet, as pleaded below, CDCR has defied this statutory mandate by requiring all Registrants to remain in a management program for the entire duration of their parole term. In many cases, Registrants are retained in the management program long after completing all requirements of the treatment curriculum, and long after the Registrant's rehabilitative progress and demonstrably low risk of re-offense render treatment unnecessary. In fact, paradoxically, some Registrants who are eligible for early discharge from parole are denied early discharge due to their participation in a management program that CDCR will not let them terminate prior to discharge from parole.

5. By refusing to allow Registrants to complete and terminate their participation in the management program prior to discharge from parole, CDCR has vitiated the discretion that Section 3008(d) requires CDCR to exercise concerning each individual Registrant In so doing, CDCR is contradicting the clear language of Section 3008(d), and thus unlawfully impairing the scope of, Section 3008(d) and the Containment Model it codifies.

6. For these and the other reasons pleaded below, Petitioners respectfully seek a writ of mandate directing CDCR to amend its regulations to authorize completion of and termination from the sex offender management program prior to discharge from parole. Petitioner also seeks a judgment declaring that Section 3008(d) requires CDCR to evaluate individual parolees on a case-by-case basis for eligibility to terminate their sex offender management program while on parole.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. As a court of unlimited jurisdiction, the Los Angeles County Superior Court has jurisdiction over this action for mandamus, declaratory, and injunctive relief pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure sections 1084, et seq. and 1060, as well as California Government Code section 11350(a).

8. Venue is proper within the Los Angeles County Superior Court pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure section 395.

PARTIES

9. Petitioner realleges and incorporates herein, as though fully set forth, all and inclusively, paragraphs 1 through 8.

10. Petitioner Alliance for Constitutional Sex Offense Laws, Inc. ("Alliance") is a non-profit corporation incorporated and headquartered in Los Angeles County, California. Alliance is dedicated to protecting the Constitution by restoring the civil rights of more than 100,000 Registrants in the State of California through advocacy, education, and litigation on behalf of them and their families. Alliance is beneficially interested in the outcome of these proceedings, as well as in CDCR's performance of its legal duties, and therefore seeks by this Petition to procure the enforcement of a public duty on a question of public right. Additionally, Alliance's membership includes individuals, including the Individual Petitioners herein, who are currently serving terms of parole in California and who are required to participate in a sex offender management program pursuant to Penal Code section 3008(d). Alliance is therefore an "interested person" for the purposes of California Government Code section 11350(a), and has standing to seek mandamus relief under the doctrine of public interest standing. (E.g., Friends of Ocean Dunes, Inc. v. San Luis Obispo County Air Pollution Control Dist. (2015) 235 Cal. App. 4th 957, 960, 962 [affirming trial court's ruling that a "California nonprofit corporation and voluntary association" had standing to challenge agency action that affected individuals that petitioner purported to speak for]; Weiss v. City of Los Angeles (2013) 2 Cal. App. 5th 194, 205-06 [same].)

11. Petitioner Christopher Sandahl is an individual residing in San Bernardino County, California, who is currently serving a 10-year term of parole supervised by CDCR. Petitioner Sandahl is currently required to participate in a sex offender management program pursuant to Section 3008(d) in San Bernardino County.

12. Petitioner Joshua Morales is an individual residing in Imperial County, California, who is currently serving a 5-year term of parole supervised by CDCR. Petitioner Morales is currently required to participate in a sex offender management program pursuant to Section 3008(d) in Riverside County.

Petitioner John Doe #1 is currently required to participate in a sex offender management program pursuant to Section 3008(d) in Los Angeles County.

15. Petitioner John Doe #2 is an individual residing in Ventura County, California, who is currently serving a 10-year term of parole supervised by CDCR. Petitioner John Doe #2 is currently required to participate in a sex offender management program pursuant to Section 3008(d) in Ventura County.

16. Petitioners Christopher Sandahl, Joshua Morales, Alexander Flores, John Doe #1, and John Doe #2 shall be referred to herein collectively as the "Individual Petitioners."

17. The Individual Petitioners in this action are "interested persons" for the purposes of California Government Code section 11350(a), and have standing to seek mandamus relief and declaratory relief. (Rialto Citizens v. City of Rialto (2012) 208 Cal. App. 4th 899, 912-914.)

18. Respondent Jeff Macomber ("Macomber") is the Secretary of CDCR. Petitioners are informed and believe and thereon allege that Secretary Macomber is responsible for drafting, issuing, and enforcing the Regulations that are the subject of this Petition, with ultimate responsibility for ensuring CDCR's compliance with its legal duties. Secretary Macomber is sued in his official capacity.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

19. Petitioners reallege and incorporate herein, as though fully set forth, each and every, all and inclusively, paragraphs 1 through 18.

Chelsea's Law and Development of the Containment Model

20. Since July 1, 2012, Registrants on parole are supervised pursuant to the Containment Model, which is codified in Section 3008(d) and related statutes. The Containment Model is the product of reforms enacted through the Chelsea King Child Predator Prevention Act of 2010, known as "Chelsea's Law." (Stats. 2010, ch. 219, A.B. 1844 (2009-2010 Reg. Sess. See also People v. Douglas M. (2013) 220 Cal. App. 4th 1068, 1076.)

21. The Containment Model sought to establish "a unified strategy" for the supervision of Registrants on post-conviction supervision statewide, rather than the "patchwork of management strategies" that had previously existed in California's 58 counties. (People v. Garcia (2017) 2 Cal. 5th 792, 800-01.) The Containment Model incorporates uniform "best practice for community supervision of sex offenders" pursuant to recommendations from the California Sex Offender Management Board (CASOMB), the entity charged with setting policy and practice for the supervision of Registrants in California. (Ibid. See also Cal. Penal Code § 9002.)

22. As the California Supreme Court has explained, "the Containment Model adopted by the Legislature depends on three interrelated elements: [1] supervision and monitoring of the sex offender while on [parole]; [2] sex offender-specific assessment and treatment; and [3] the use of static, dynamic, and future assessments of the risk of reoffending, including the State Authorized Risk Assessment Tool for Sex Offenders (SARATSO)." (Garcia, supra, 2 Cal. 5th at pp. 800-01.) Thus, the Containment Model requires cooperation by three actors: a supervising agent, a treatment provider, and a polygraph examiner. "A major premise of the model is that the mental health professional, [supervising] officer, and polygraph examiner will work together closely to assess the offender's compliance with, and participation in, the treatment program as well as the offender's risk of reoffending." (Id. at p. 801.)[1]

23. This Petition concerns the second element of the Containment Model, that is, the program for "sex-offender specific assessment and treatment," which includes both a therapeutic treatment curriculum and periodic polygraph examinations. (Cal. Penal Code § 3008, subd. (d)(1)-(d)(2).) Because of its breadth and detail, the Legislature provided CASOMB and CDCR approximately two years to develop the treatment component of the Containment Model. Section 23 of Chelsea's Law, now codified in Penal Code section 9003, directed CASOMB to develop standards for the program, as well as a method for certifying the individual third-party treatment programs and treatment providers that would implement the program throughout the state. Penal Code section 9003 states as follows:

> (a) On or before July 1, 2011, the board shall develop and update standards for certification of sex offender management professionals. All those professionals who provide sex offender management programs and risk assessments, pursuant to Section 290.09, shall be certified by the board according to these standards. The standards shall be published on the board's Internet Web site. Professionals may apply to the board for certification on or after August 1, 2011.
> (b) On or before July 1, 2011, the board shall develop and update standards for certification of sex offender management programs, which shall include treatment, as specified, and dynamic and future violence risk assessments pursuant to Section 290.09. The standards shall be published on the board's Internet Web site. All those programs shall include polygraph examinations by a certified polygraph examiner, which shall be conducted as needed during the period that the offender is in the sex offender management program. Only certified sex offender management professionals whose programs meet the standards set by the board are eligible to provide sex offender management programs pursuant to Section 290.09.

[1] People v. Garcia and other opinions addressing the Containment Model discuss its parameters in the context of probation supervision, rather than parole. Their reasoning applies to parole, however, because the Containment Model governs the supervision of Registrants in both contexts, and the statutes implementing the Containment Model in both contexts are substantively identical. (Compare Penal Code § 3008, subd. (d) [parole] with id. § 1203.067, subd. (b) [probation].)

(Stats. 2010, c. 219 (A.B.1844), § 23, eff. Sept. 9, 2010, codified at Penal Code § 9003.)

24. Related, Penal Code section 290.09, enacted pursuant to Chelsea's Law, further states:

> The sex offender management program shall meet the certification requirements developed by the California Sex Offender Management Board pursuant to Section 9003. Probation departments and the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation shall not employ or contract with, and shall not allow a sex offender to employ or contract with, any individual or entity to provide sex offender evaluation or treatment services pursuant to this section unless the sex offender evaluation or treatment services to be provided by the individual or entity conforms with the standards developed pursuant to Section 9003.

(Stats. 2010, c. 219 (A.B.1844), § 13, eff. Sept. 9, 2010, codified at Penal Code § 290.09, subd. (a)(2).)

The Containment Model Requires Registrants on Supervision to Participate in a Management Program for At Least One Year, but Not the Entire Term of Supervision

25. The Containment Model took effect on July 1, 2012, and all Registrants on parole became subject to it on that date. State law now provides that "Every sex offender required to register pursuant to Sections 290 to 290.023, inclusive, shall, while on parole . . ., participate in an approved sex offender management program, pursuant to Section [] 3008." (Penal Code § 290.09.) Section 3008(d) expressly requires participation in a sex offender management program as a condition of parole, and specifies the length of participation in the program, as follows:

> On or after July 1, 2012, the parole conditions of a person released on parole for an offense that requires registration pursuant to Sections 290 to 290.023, inclusive, shall include all of the following: . . . .
> > (2) Persons placed on parole on or after July 1, 2012, shall successfully complete a sex offender management program, following the standards developed pursuant to Section 9003, as a condition of parole. The length of the period in the program shall be not less than one year, up to the entire period of parole, as determined by the certified sex offender management professional in consultation with the parole officer and as approved by the court. Participation in this program applies to every person described without regard to when his or her crime or crimes were committed.

(Penal Code § 3008, subd. (d)(1)-(d)(2), emphasis added.)

26. Therefore, as codified in Section 3008(d), the duration of the management program is a minimum of one year, and up to the entire period of parole, if warranted. The management program, however, is not required in all cases to extend for the entire period of parole. Indeed, the Containment Model requires CDCR and individual treatment providers to exercise discretion in determining the length of time an individual Registrant remains in a management program. In other words, Section 3008(d) requires that individual Registrants have an opportunity to "complete" the management program, and thereupon be terminated from it, prior to their discharge from parole.

The Containment Model in Practice

27. Upon information and belief, the management program called for by the Containment Model involves successive phases that require progressively less participation over time. When first released on parole, a Registrant is assessed using SARATSO-approved risk assessment instruments and assigned a particular treatment plan by the treatment provider, in consultation with parole authorities.

28. Upon information and belief, a Registrant's initial involvement in the management program is time intensive. A typical Registrant newly released on parole must participate in a weekly group therapy session in which curriculum is discussed and completed, plus separate individual counseling sessions that do not involve curriculum. Upon information and belief, the Registrant also participates in polygraph examinations to verify compliance with the treatment program as well as other conditions of parole. Upon information and belief, the polygraph examinations are administered under the supervision of the treatment provider.

29. Upon information and belief, as a Registrant progresses through and completes the curriculum-based group treatment phase of the management program, and otherwise achieves treatment goals, a Registrant is eligible to transition to phases of treatment that require less frequent group and/or individual sessions. Upon information and belief, these latter phases are usually called "maintenance" or "after care," consistent with having completed the treatment curriculum and needing only "maintenance" of the progress achieved. Upon information and belief, in most if not all treatment programs, the post-curriculum "maintenance" or "after care" phases involve materially less frequent group and/or individual sessions than the earlier curriculum-based treatment phases. Maintenance and aftercare phases can be as infrequent as one quarterly individual meeting with a therapist.

30. Upon information and belief, both Registrants and public safety benefit when a Registrant timely completes the treatment curriculum and reduces his or her participation in the management program. For example, upon information and belief, maintaining a regular employment schedule while on parole can be difficult when the group and/or individual treatment sessions occur on weekdays during business hours. Individual Registrants are often compelled to miss work, or forego certain employment entirely, if their work schedules do not allow participation in the management program. In contrast, Registrants who progress through the program and whose attendance requirements are correspondingly reduced have additional time to pursue employment opportunities, education, or other positive goals correlated with rehabilitation.

CDCR Regulations, Policy, and Practice Do Not Allow Registrants to Complete and Discontinue the Management Program Prior to Discharge from Parole

31. As noted above, the Legislature did not intend the management program for Registrants to endure for the entire duration of parole in every case. To the contrary, Section 3008 expressly contemplates that the management program can be "completed" prior to discharge of parole, and that its duration can be as short as "one year."

32. The only CDCR regulation that expressly implements Section 3008 and the management program it requires as a condition of parole is Title 15, Section 3573, of the Code of Regulations. Section 3573 provides that:

> The Department shall conduct on-going supplemental risk assessments pursuant to sections 3573(d) and (e), which are used for designing treatment programs and determining supervision levels for sex offenders during their parole terms at the direction of the Director of CDCR or their designee. These assessments are not for use in determining whether an offender qualifies as a HRSO, but rather to determine the frequency of treatment and the level of supervision needed for monitoring the sex offender while in the community.

(15 C.C.R. § 3573, subd. (c).) Notably, no provision of Section 3573 or any other regulation allows for the "completion" of the management program. Nor does Section 3573 or any other regulation allow for termination of a Registrant's participation in the management program prior to discharge from parole, as Section 3008(d) contemplates.

33. Notably, the Operations Manual for CDCR's Division of Adult Parole Operations confirms that Registrants are retained in the management program for the duration of their parole term, regardless of whether continued participation is necessary. Section 81022 of the Operations Manual states:

> Pursuant to PC Section 3008, CDCR must implement a sex offender parolee management and containment program developed in accordance with the standards established under PC Section 9003. SOMP is a comprehensive program consisting of enhanced supervision; sex offender parolee specific treatment; polygraph use; and victim advocacy, and is intended for the management of all parolees required to register with law enforcement, pursuant to PC Section 290.
> All offenders under CDCR supervision convicted of a crime requiring registration under the Sex Offender Registration Act codified in PC Section 290 et seq., shall be supervised in accordance with the SOMP policy. Parole agents assigned to a specialized sex offender parolee caseload shall receive SOMP training prior to the assignment of sex offender parolee cases.

(DAPO Operations Manual § 81022, emphasis added.)

34. Further, upon information and belief, as a matter of policy and practice, CDCR does not permit any Registrant to "complete" the management program prior to discharge from parole, as Section 3008(d) contemplates. Nor does CDCR otherwise allow a Registrant's participation in the management program to be terminated, as Section 3008(d) contemplates. Rather, CDCR and CDCR, as a matter of policy, retain all Registrants in a management program until their discharge date, regardless of whether they have completed the treatment curriculum, and regardless of the Registrant's individual treatment needs, supervision level, or risk of re-offense.

CDCR Agents and Officials Testified in Court Proceedings that CDCR Retains All Registrants in a Sex Offender Management Program for the Duration of Parole

35. CDCR recently confirmed its policy in the habeas corpus proceeding captioned In re Frederick Dwyer (See Exh. A, Order dated March 20, 2023 in San Mateo Co. Super. Ct. Case No. SC-080355A, HC-3020). In that litigation, the Registrant had been convicted in San Mateo County and, in 2017, was released on parole in Alameda County. (Exh. A, at p. 2.) At that time, the parole authorities in Alameda County contracted with the "Shaping Success" company as their contract treatment provider. (Exh. A, at p. 3.) As required by Section 3008(d), the Registrant attended and participated in weekly curriculum-based group sessions lasting 1.5 hours for nearly three years between March 2018 and January 2021. (Exh. A, at p. 3.) In addition to the weekly therapeutic sessions, the Shaping Success program curriculum required extensive written work product, including a Relapse Prevention Plan, which the Registrant submitted. The Registrant also continued to undergo polygraph examinations. (Exh. A, at p. 3.)

36. In January 2021, the Registrant's treatment provider, Shaping Success, confirmed his completion of the curriculum and approved his transition to the maintenance phase of the program. (Exh. A, at p. 3.) The maintenance phase required the Registrant to appear only for individual counseling once per month, and eliminated Petitioner's weekly group sessions. (Exh. A, at p. 3.)

37. The Registrant took advantage of the reduced attendance requirement to achieve professional certifications, complete a union apprenticeship program, and to undertake the additional hours needed to earn a promotion at his job. The Registrant could not have achieved these goals with the initial schedule required during his first three years in the management program.

38. Shortly after the Registrant's transition to maintenance, however, in 2021, CDCR informed him that Shaping Success had been replaced with a new contract treatment provider, the HOPE Program. (Exh. A, at p. 4.) The Registrant was told that he was required to begin the treatment curriculum anew with the HOPE Program because the HOPE Program was unwilling to rely upon the prior treatment provider's work, despite Shaping Success being CASOMB-certified, and despite his completion of the program being confirmed by both his prior treatment provider and his parole agent. (See Exh. A, at p. 10 & n.1.)

39. The Registrant challenged the requirement to repeat the treatment curriculum in a petition for writ of habeas corpus, invoking the Court's discretionary authority to terminate a sex offender management program after one year pursuant to Section 3008. The Court held an evidentiary hearing at which it found that the sole basis for retaining the Registrant in the management program was CDCR's policy of requiring all Registrants to participate in the program for the duration of parole, regardless of their individual treatment needs. (Exh. A, at p. 10.) CDCR agents including the Registrant's individual parole agent, as well the parole administrator for the East Bay District (Alameda and Contra Costa County), confirmed that policy in response to the Court's inquiry:

> [THE COURT:] Have you ever during the time that you have been in the positions that you have described were responsible to 290 registrants seen a participant in a sex offender management program complete such a program prior tot termination or discharge from parole?
> THE [CDCR] WITNESS: No.
> THE COURT: Is it essentially the policy of the Department of Corrections that completion of the program is not possible before the discharge from parole program . . . ?
> THE [CDCR] WITNESS: Yes.

(Transcript of Hearing on February 9, 2023 in In re Dwyer, (San Mateo Co. Super. Ct. Case No. SC-080355A, HC-3020). See also Order, Exh. A, at pp. 6-7 ["[A former East Bay region supervisor from CDCR] testified that it is the policy of the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation and the Division of Adult Parole Operations that a sex offender management program as defined in Penal Code § 3008 cannot be completed short of discharge 3 from parole."].)

40. The San Mateo County Superior Court ruled that CDCR's refusal to exercise its discretion in connection with the Registrant's length of participation in a sex offender management program "vitiates the Legislature's directive" set forth in Section 3008, as follows:

> Penal Code§ 3008(d)(2) fixes the length of a sex offender management program as no less than one year and up to the entire period of parole "as determined by the sex offender management professional in consultation with the parole officer and as approved by the court." The evidence in this case demonstrates that the "consultation" contemplated by the statute between the sex offender management professional and parole in this case worked only one way – the program told parole what was required and parole deferred. . . .
> Both the CASOMB provider and the Division of Adult Parole Operations take the position that a sex offender cannot successfully "complete" a sex offender management treatment program short of being discharged from parole. The discretion conferred by statute on the Division of Adult Parole Operations and this CASOMB provider is apparently being exercised in all cases to require participation in a sex offender management program for the entire term of parole, apparently without reference to the individualized performance of each parolee. Discretion exercised in that fashion vitiates the Legislature's directive that program participation should last at least one year and "up to" the entire parole term, and effectively requires all parolees participating in this program to do so for the entire term of parole.

(Exh. A, at pp. 10:6-11:7.)

41. Accordingly, the San Mateo County Superior Court exercised its discretion under Section 3008 and terminated the Registrant's participation in the sex offender management program, including the polygraph examinations, for the following reasons:

> The Legislature's guidance on the purpose of parole is as follows:
>
> > [T]he period immediately following incarceration is critical to successful reintegration of the offender into society and to positive citizenship. It is in the interest of public safety for the state to provide for the effective supervision of and surveillance of parolees, including the judicious use of revocation actions, and to provide educational, vocational, family, and personal counseling necessary to assist parolees in the transition between imprisonment and discharge. Penal Code § 3000(a)(l).
> In this case, the undisputed evidence establishes that Petitioner is meeting the goals of successful reintegration into society. . . . His performance on parole for at least the last three years has been so positive that his supervising parole officer has recommended his complete discharge from parole supervision, and that recommendation was approved for submission to the Board by multiple supervisory layers of parole administration. . . . His continued engagement in the HOPE program does not serve to "assist [Petitioner] in the transition between imprisonment and discharge", since his parole agent and that agent's supervisors have apparently determined that he is ready for a recommended earned discharge.

(Exh. A, at pp. 11:12-12:12.)

The Individual Petitioners in this Action

42. Upon information and belief, CDCR continues to "vitiate" the Legislature's directive in Section 3008(d) by retaining all Registrants on parole in California in a management program for the duration of parole. Upon information and belief, as of June 7, 2023, there were 6,821 Registrants on parole in California, and who are therefore subject to the management program required by Section 3008(d).[2]

43. The Individual Petitioners in this action reside in five different counties, and fairly represent parolees throughout the state. Some of the Individual Petitioners have been retained in the initial phases of treatment indefinitely, subject to repetition of the same treatment curriculum, regardless of their progress and demonstrably low risk of re-offense. Other Individual Petitioners have completed the curriculum-based treatment phases and have transitioned to "maintenance" phases of treatment, where they have maintained minimal contact with the treatment provider for substantial periods. Yet, they are retained in the management program indefinitely rather than evaluated for termination from the program, as Section 3008(d) contemplates.

Petitioner Christopher Sandahl

44. Petitioner Christopher Sandahl is currently serving a 10-year term of parole supervised by CDCR in San Bernardino County. Petitioner Sandahl was released from custody in Riverside County on or about October 5, 2014, whereupon he began a sex offender management program in Riverside County with Sharper Future, a contract treatment provider. Shortly thereafter, Petitioner Sandahl enrolled in a vocational training program in San Bernardino and transferred his parole supervision to that county. After his transfer, Petitioner Sandahl immediately resumed the management program with a treatment provider called Open Door in the City of Colton in San Bernardino County. Open Door required Petitioner Sandahl to attend weekly curriculum-based group meetings, as well as individual counseling sessions at different intervals, along with periodic polygraph examinations. Open Door has required Petitioner Sandahl to maintain this same schedule without adjustment for the past eight years. Petitioner Sandahl has repeated the full treatment curriculum with Open Door at least three times, but has never been approved for transition to a maintenance phase of treatment, or any correspondingly reduced treatment schedule. Petitioner Sandahl has missed only two group sessions during those eight years, each time with the approval of his parole agent.

Petitioner Joshua Morales

45. Petitioner Joshua Morales is currently serving a 5-year term of parole supervised by CDCR in Imperial County. Petitioner Morales's term of parole began on September 24, 2018, when he was released to Riverside County. In or about October 2018, Petitioner Morales began a management program with the treatment provider Sharper Future in Riverside County, which included weekly curriculum-based group treatment sessions, monthly individual sessions, and periodic polygraph examinations.

46. In or about January 2020, a representative from Sharper Future told Petitioner Morales and all members of his treatment group that Registrants can earn transition to the maintenance phase of the program by completing the treatment curriculum. The maintenance phase was said to require, at the start, group sessions twice per month (plus individual sessions and polygraph exams), but would ultimately require only one monthly group session (plus individual sessions and polygraph exams). Petitioner Morales diligently pursued completion of the treatment curriculum. However, despite his repeated requests, Petitioner Morales was never transitioned to the maintenance phase of the program that year (2020).

47. In or about January 2021, Petitioner Morales moved to Imperial County, where he continued to participate in the Sharper Future program at the same intervals required when he was newly released on parole (i.e., weekly group sessions, monthly individual sessions, and period polygraph examinations). Petitioner Morales's new parole agent in Imperial County inquired why he had not yet transitioned to maintenance. The new parole agent suggested that Petitioner Morales enroll in a different management program in San Diego County, the HOPE Program, based upon the parole agent's expectation that the HOPE Program would facilitate Petitioner Morales's transition to maintenance more quickly. Petitioner Morales accepted this offer and enrolled with the HOPE Program in Chula Vista in early 2021.

48. The HOPE Program in Chula Vista required Petitioner Morales to participate in weekly curriculum-based group treatment sessions (along with monthly individual sessions and polygraph exams) for one year before being transitioned to the maintenance phase. Petitioner Morales commenced this schedule. However, a few months later, Petitioner Morales suffered a serious car accident while en route to a polygraph examination in Chula Vista, 2.5 hours from his residence in Imperial County. Reluctant to continue making that drive, Petitioner Morales requested permission to resume the Sharper Future program in Riverside County, which was granted. After that transfer, Petitioner Morales was required to resume participation in the Sharper Future program at the same interval as when he first joined that program.

49. Some months later, in August 2022, Sharper Future informed Petitioner Morales that he was approved for transition to the maintenance phase of the program. However, despite the above-referenced representations by Sharper Future, the maintenance phase requires precisely the same schedule that newly enrolled Registrants must attend (weekly curriculum-based group treatment session, plus monthly individual sessions and periodic polygraph examinations). In other words, Petitioner Morales's transition to maintenance was a nominal transition only, with no substantive impact on his level of participation or program requirements.

50. In September 2022, Petitioner Morale's parole agent and unit supervisor recommended his early discharge from parole. This recommendation was based upon Petitioner Morales having "completed sex offender treatment" by virtue of "being in the maintenance phase of Sex Offender Treatment," as well as Petitioner Morales's STATIC-99R risk assessment score of "zero." Yet, on December 20, 2022, the Board of Parole Hearings denied Petitioner Morales early discharge from parole based in part upon his "continued Sex Offender Treatment under the Maintenance Phase." In other words, CDCR denied Petitioner Morales early discharge from parole based because of his continued participation in the sex offender management program that CDCR will not let him complete or terminate prior to discharge.

Petitioner Alexander Flores

51. Petitioner Alexander Flores is currently serving a 10-year term of parole supervised by CDCR in San Diego County. Petitioner Flores was released and began his term of parole in March 2019. Upon release, in or about March 2019, Petitioner Flores began a management program with the HOPE Program, which required curriculum-based treatment group sessions once per week, plus monthly individual sessions and periodic polygraph examinations. In January 2022, Petitioner Flores transitioned to a curriculum-based "maintenance group" with sessions twice per month, along with monthly individual sessions and periodic polygraph examinations, which has remained Petitioner Flores's schedule between January 2022 and the present.

52. The curriculum in the maintenance group sessions that Mr. Flores attends is similar or identical to the curriculum in the previous treatment group sessions. Treatment providers with the HOPE Program have told Petitioner Flores that Registrants are eligible to transition to monthly group sessions, but he has not been permitted to transition, nor is he aware of any other Registrant who has done so. Treatment providers with the HOPE Program have also told Petitioner Flores that Registrants are never terminated from group or individual treatment sessions, or polygraph examinations, while they are on parole.

53. Notably, the HOPE Program has confirmed, in writing, that Petitioner Flores occupies "low risk" and "below average risk" categories on its assessment instruments, based upon factors that include a SARATSO risk assessment score, his participation in treatment, continued employment, and other dynamic factors indicating stability and trustworthiness.

Petitioner John Doe #1

54. Petitioner John Doe #1 is currently serving a 10-year term of parole supervised by CDCR in Los Angeles County. Upon his release in 2019, Petitioner John Doe #1 began a sex offender management program with Sharper Future in Los Angeles County, and was required to attend weekly curriculum-based group sessions, as well as monthly individual treatment sessions and periodic polygraph examinations. Petitioner John Doe #1 finished the curriculum phase of the management program in November 2021 and was told of his eligibility to "step down" to the maintenance phase. Despite these statements, Petitioner John Doe #1 was not transitioned to the maintenance phase until April 2022. Currently, Petitioner John Doe #1 attends no group meetings, and attends individual sessions once every three months, along with periodic polygraph examinations.

Petitioner John Doe #2

55. Petitioner John Doe #2 is currently serving a 10-year term of parole supervised by CDCR in Ventura County. Petitioner John Doe #2 was released on parole in 2017, whereupon Petitioner John Doe #2 attended weekly curriculum-based group treatment sessions, plus periodic individual sessions and polygraph examinations. In mid-2020, Petitioner John Doe #2 completed the treatment curriculum and transitioned to an "aftercare" phase, which requires monthly group sessions, and no individual sessions, and periodic polygraph examinations. Petitioner John Doe #2 has maintained this schedule since mid-2022. Petitioner John Doe #2's parole agent has told him that he occupies the lowest possible supervision level per CDCR's regulations.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Mandamus – CAL. CIV. PROC. CODE § 1085)

56. Petitioners reallege and incorporate herein, as though fully set forth, each and every, all and inclusively, paragraphs 1 through 53.

57. Respondent, as Secretary of CDCR, along with each relevant official, employee, and agent of CDCR, has failed to comply, and is failing to comply, with their duties under the laws of the State of California, including Penal Code section 3008(d) and the California Administrative Procedure Act, Government Code section 11340.

58. Government Code section 11342.2 provides that > Whenever by the express or implied terms of any statute a state agency has authority to adopt regulations to implement, interpret, make specific or otherwise carry out the provisions of the statute, no regulation adopted is valid or effective unless consistent and not in conflict with the statute and reasonably necessary to effectuate the purpose of the statute.

(Gov't Code § 11342.2.) "Regulations that alter or amend the statute or enlarge or impair its scope are void." (Envtl. Protection Info. Ctr. v. Dept. of Forestry and Fire Protection (1996) 43 Cal. App. 4th 1011, 1022.) CDCR abuses its discretion when its regulations purport to implement a statute using criteria other than those intended by the Legislature. (Sabatasso v. Superior Court (2008) 167 Cal. App. 4th 971.)

59. Under the standard imposed by Government Code section 11342.2, CDCR's Regulations at Code of Regulations, Title 15, section 3573 ("Regulations"), fail this standard and are therefore unlawful for the following reasons:

a. First, the Regulations require that all Registrants participate in a sex offender management program (consisting of mental health treatment sessions and polygraph examinations) for the entire period of parole, which is not consistent with, and which impairs the scope of, Section 3008(d).

b. Second, the Regulations contain no mechanism whereby Registrants are evaluated on a case-by-case basis for termination from the sex offender management program prior to discharge from parole, or otherwise permitted to "complete a sex offender management program" prior to discharge from parole, which is not consistent with, and which impairs the scope of, Section 3008(d).

c. Third, the Regulations are not a lawful exercise of discretion because they require Registrants to participate in a sex offender management program for the entire duration of parole. CDCR has therefore failed and is failing to exercise the discretion that Section 3008(d) requires CDCR to exercise regarding each individual Registrant. Such a failure to exercise discretion is itself an abuse of discretion. (E.g., Grimes v. State Dep't of Social Services (1999) 70 Cal. App. 4th 1065, 1073 ["Courts have interpreted these established rules of judicial review of administrative action to find an abuse of discretion where . . . there is a failure to exercise discretion . . . ."].)

60. Separately, upon information and belief, and as representatives from CDCR have testified under oath, CDCR has implement and continues to implement a policy requiring all Registrants supervised by CDCR on parole to participate in a sex offender management program for the entire duration of parole, and does not allow individual Registrants to complete or be terminated from that program prior to discharge of parole, which is not consistent with, and which impairs the scope of, Section 3008(d).

61. The injuries that Petitioners and the public are suffering as a result of the actions of Respondent and CDCR, are severe, irreparable, and ongoing, and there are no plain, adequate, complete, speedy, or required alternative remedies available to redress the violations of law committed by Respondent and CDCR in this action, nor are there any available, non-futile, or required administrative remedies available to redress the violations of law committed by Respondent and CDCR. Damages are not adequate to protect Petitioners from the continuing effects of Respondent and CDCR's violations of the law and from Respondent and CDCR's failure to carry out their duties under the law. Immediate mandamus relief is necessary to halt and prevent further occurrence of these ongoing unlawful acts and the infliction of irreparable harm to Petitioners and the public.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(Declaratory Judgment – CAL. CIV. PROC. CODE § 1060; CAL. GOV'T CODE § 11350(a))

62. Petitioners reallege and incorporate herein, as though fully set forth, each and every, all and inclusively, paragraphs 1 through 59.

63. The California Administrative Procedure Act declares that, to be effective, regulations "shall be within the scope of authority conferred and in accordance with standards prescribed by other provisions of law," and that "no regulation adopted is valid or effective unless consistent and not in conflict with the statute and reasonably necessary to effectuate the purpose of the statute." (Cal. Gov't Code §§ 11342.1, 11342.2.)

64. California Government Code section 11350(a) states: "Any interested person may obtain a judicial declaration as to the validity of any regulation or order of repeal by bringing an action for declaratory relief in the superior court in accordance with the Code of Civil Procedure. The right to judicial determination shall not be affected by the failure either to petition or to seek reconsideration of a petition filed pursuant to Section 11340.7 before the agency promulgating the regulation or order of repeal. The regulation or order of repeal may be declared to be invalid for a substantial failure to comply with this chapter, or, in the case of an emergency regulation or order of repeal, upon the ground that the facts recited in the finding of emergency prepared pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 11346.1 do not constitute an emergency within the provisions of Section 11346.1."

65. Petitioners are "interested persons" within the meaning of California Government Code section 11350(a) and therefore have standing to bring this action for declaratory relief.

66. Petitioners seek a declaration that CDCR's Regulations at Code of Regulations, Title 15, section 3573, are void, invalid, and otherwise unlawful on the grounds stated herein.

67. Petitioners seek a declaration that Section 3008(d) prohibits CDCR from retaining, as a matter of policy or practice, all Registrants on parole in a sex offender management program for the entire term of parole.

68. Petitioners seek a declaration that CDCR is required to exercise discretion regarding each individual Registrant's duration of participation in a sex offender management program pursuant to Section 3008(d), and that such exercise of discretion must include the possibility of completion of and termination from that program prior to discharge from parole, after one year in the program.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Petitioners pray for judgment against Respondent Jeff Macomber, as follows:

A. That the Court issue a peremptory writ of mandate directing Respondent and the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation ("CDCR") to amend and revise its regulations implementing Penal Code section 3008(d), including its Regulations at Code of Regulations, Title 15, section 3573, to permit Penal Code section 290 Registrants supervised by CDCR on parole to complete and be terminated from the sex offender management program required by Penal Code section 3008(d) after one year in the program, and prior to discharge from parole.

B. For a judgment declaring that Penal Code section 3008(d) prohibits CDCR from retaining, as a matter of policy or practice, all Registrants in a sex offender management program for the entire term of parole.

C. That Petitioners recover from Respondent all of Petitioners' reasonable attorney fees, costs, and expenses of this litigation pursuant to California Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5 and other applicable law; and

D. For such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

In re:	Case No. SC-080355A
	HC-3020
FREDERICK DWYER.
On Habeas Corpus.	ORDER

FACTS AND ALLEGATIONS

On January 23, 2015, Petitioner pled no contest to one count of Penal Code section (PC §) 286(c)(2) (sodomy by force). He also admitted allegations pursuant to Penal Code section 1192.7(c)(4) and 667.5(c)(4) (admitting that the current offense was serious and violent). On March 10, 2015, the Court denied probation and sentenced Petitioner to the lower term of three years in the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation. As a condition of sentence, Petitioner was ordered to register pursuant to the terms of Penal Code § 290.

Petitioner was released on parole in 2017. Among other conditions, he was ordered as a special condition of parole to participate in a sex offender management program as required by Penal Code § 3008(d). In the present writ before the court, Petitioner challenges the continued imposition of the special condition of parole on two grounds: 1) that he has already successfully completed a sex offender management program as required, but is currently being ordered to complete a second program; and 2) he asks the court to exercise its discretion pursuant to Penal Code § 3008(d) to limit the length of the sex offender management treatment program to a term less than the entire term of his parole.

Petitioner submitted his writ petition on June 22, 2021 in Alameda County Superior Court. The People, through the Attorney General, submitted an informal response requesting denial of the petition on August 20, 2021. Petitioner filed a reply on August 27, 2021. The Honorable Morris Jacobson ordered the writ petition transferred to San Mateo County Superior Court on October 22, 2021, finding that venue was more appropriate in the committing court. This Court issued an order to show cause on January 13, 2022. Respondent filed their return on April 14, 2022, and Petitioner filed a Traverse and Denial on May 11, 2022. This Court issued an order for evidentiary hearing on disputed facts on October 20, 2022. The hearing was continued and ultimately heard on March 9, 2023. Petitioner testified on his own behalf. Respondent presented the testimony of Dr. Cristina Loree, Gilberto Haro, and Daniel Stout. The parties stipulated to the admission of each of their marked exhibits. The Court has considered all filed written pleadings, all admitted exhibits, the testimony of each witness, and the arguments of counsel in rendering the following decision.

DISCUSSION

I. Factual Findings

The facts established at the evidentiary hearing in this matter are largely undisputed. Pursuant to the parties' written stipulation filed March 2, 2023, Petitioner was released on parole on May 30, 2017. He has suffered one parole violation to date in September 2019 for a physical altercation with his wife. The altercation did not result in the filing of a new criminal case, and Petitioner's parole violation resulted in a custodial sanction of six days. Petitioner has otherwise complied with his parole conditions, and has been recommended for early discharge from parole. The Board of Parole Hearings denied the recommended early discharge because Petitioner has not yet served the minimum term of parole required for his commitment offense.

Pursuant to a special condition of parole, Petitioner is required to "report to and actively participate in a Division of Adult Parole Operations approved sex offender treatment program.

The program will require you to agree and sign necessary documents and waivers as well as polygraph examinations, limited to questions about the success of the sex offender treatment program, the crime(s) for which you were convicted, compliance with conditions of parole, sexual history and related criminal behavior past, present, and/or future." (Exhibit 3H). At the time of Petitioner's release on parole, the Division of Adult Parole Operations in Petitioner's area of supervision contracted with a program called Shaping Success. Shaping Success is a California Sex Offender Management Board (CASOMB) approved sex offender management program. The evidence at the hearing established that the Shaping Success program consisted of a "treatment" phase and a "maintenance" phase. During the treatment phase, Petitioner testified that he was initially required to participate in weekly group meetings and individual monthly counseling sessions with Shaping Success. He participated in treatment with Shaping Success for three years. On January 12, 2021, the Shaping Success program issued a "Statement of Successful Treatment Completion" regarding Petitioner's treatment. (Exhibit 9H). The certificate stated, in relevant part on its face, that:

> [t]he term 'successful treatment completion' is defined as having 'demonstrated sufficient progress in meeting the goals and objectives of an individualized treatment plan' at the time of release from treatment. … Treatment completion does not mean that the client has successfully completed the sex offender management program, or that the client will never reoffend. When active treatment ends, supervision and other elements of the Containment Model may continue. These elements may include, but are not limited to, monitoring, follow-up sessions, aftercare meetings, polygraph testing, risk assessments, and other services which may be required as part of a sex offender management program, i.e., CASOMB Sex Offender Treatment Provider Agency Certification Requirements.

At the completion of the "treatment" phase of Shaping Success, Petitioner was moved into the "maintenance" phase of the program. Petitioner testified that in the "maintenance" phase, he was no longer required to attend any group sessions and his individual sessions were reduced to once a month. He was also required to participate in annual polygraph examinations.

After Petitioner had completed the treatment phase of Shaping Success, the Division of Adult Parole Operations contracted with a new CASOMB provider for sex offender management – the HOPE program. Petitioner was required to participate in treatment at the HOPE program beginning on March 5, 2021. (Exhibit 6H). Dr. Cristina Loree, Executive Director of Clinical Training and Development at the HOPE Program, testified that HOPE's sex offender management program consists of four phases. When participants first report to the program, the program administers static and dynamic risk assessment tools and obtains a full biopsychosocial history of the participant. Clients are referred to treatment based on their risk assessment scores. The first phase of the program is preparatory for treatment, consisting of seven modules. The second phase of the program, referred to as "core treatment", consists of twenty four modules. In the core treatment phase, sex offenders designated as "high risk" based on their risk assessment scores are required to attend groups twice weekly and once a month individually. "Low risk" offenders participate in groups once weekly and individual sessions once a month. The third phase of the program is "maintenance", consisting of twelve modules. In the maintenance phase, participants have group meetings no less frequently than every other week, and individual sessions no less than quarterly. Completion of all twelve modules is required to complete the maintenance phase, and group sessions are the primary method that the program uses to assess completion of the modules. Upon completion of maintenance, the fourth phase of the program is "aftercare". In aftercare, participants have no group sessions, individual meetings only as needed at the discretion of their clinicians, and twice yearly polygraph examinations. Dr. Loree characterized participation in "aftercare" as voluntary for those no longer on parole, but mandatory for those who have not yet discharged from parole based on the need to maintain a connection to treatment. Dr. Loree testified that she believes a continuous connection to treatment is required for all sex offender parolees based on Penal Code § 3008's provision that the duration of a sex offender management program can be up to the entire term of parole.

When HOPE became the sex offender management provider for Petitioner's region, they devised the following general process for participants who were in the maintenance phase of the Shaping Success program. The participants were required to complete the seven module treatment preparation phase, submit a non-deceptive polygraph examination, and undergo a risk assessment. Upon completion of those three requirements, participants were then moved into the maintenance phase of the HOPE program. Dr. Loree was unable to describe exactly when Petitioner went through that screening process and was moved to maintenance. Petitioner testified that when he first began with HOPE he was required to attend groups twice weekly in addition to individual sessions for the first three months of his participation in the program. After that, Petitioner testified that he was moved to the maintenance phase of the HOPE program – he currently attends groups once every two weeks and individual sessions quarterly. Dr. Loree confirmed that this is the lowest level of treatment available in HOPE's maintenance phase. Dr. Loree testified that Petitioner has completed four of the twelve maintenance phase modules. His attendance has been "near perfect". His STATIC-99R score is 4, which is categorized as high risk. The STATIC-99R measures risk factors that generally do not change over time with the exception of age at last release from prison. HOPE has administered two dynamic risk assessments to Petitioner – the Stable-2007 and the LS/CMI. His most recent Stable-2007 score is 2, and his most recent LS/CMI score is 6. Both are categorized as low risk. (Exhibit 7). Dr. Loree testified that Petitioner's overall risk assessment, taking both the STATIC-99R score and the dynamic risk assessment scores into account, is average risk – classified as an 8% likelihood of sexual recidivism within 5 years as compared to the overall population of individuals convicted of sexually motivated offenses.

Petitioner is married, has stable housing, and is presently employed. He is the sole wage earner in his household. He has reached journeyman level in his carpenter's union. He is enrolled in community college courses in pursuit of his Associate of Arts degree, with the goal of becoming a construction superintendent. Since the 2019 parole violation, his parole performance has been positive. (Exhibit 5H). He asserts that the increased frequency of group meetings since his transition from the Shaping Success program to the HOPE program is interfering with his ability to meet his employment obligations.

II. Legal Discussion

A. Failure to Exhaust Remedies

The Attorney General argues that this Court should deny the writ because Petitioner has failed to exhaust his administrative remedies before seeking writ relief, citing In re Muszalski (1975) 52 Cal.App.3d 500, 508. While it is true that exhaustion is typically required before a writ of habeas corpus may be granted, there is an exception to the requirement of exhaustion where an aggrieved party "can positively state what the administrative agency's decision in his particular case would be." In re Thompson (1985) 172 Cal.App.3d 256, 262. Petitioner is not "required to pursue a futile remedy." In re Thompson, supra, at 263.

In the instant petition, Petitioner filed a grievance on June 11, 2021 prior to filing the instant writ petition. The grievance and response were admitted as Exhibits 7H and 8H. Petitioner's grievance sought to be "placed back on maintenance with the same frequency of contact that I had with Shaping Success provider." (Exhibit 7H.) On July 28, 2021, Petitioner's grievance was denied on the grounds that Penal Code § 3008(d)(2) and Petitioner's special condition of parole required him to participate in sex offender treatment "while under parole supervision", and that HOPE's program staff had stated that Petitioner would be moved to HOPE's maintenance phase with once per week group sessions and monthly individual sessions. (Exhibit 8H.) At the hearing, the Court heard the testimony of Gilberto Haro, presently responsible for overseeing the operations of five parole units within the East Bay where Petitioner is supervised. Mr. Haro participated in the review and denial of Petitioner's grievance. He supervises Petitioner's assigned parole agent. Mr. Haro testified unamibiguously that the treatment provider determined Petitioner's appropriate level of treatment and parole denied Petitioner's grievance in deference to that decision. Mr. Haro further testified that he understands Penal Code § 3008(d)(2) to require a sex offender parolee to participate in a sex offender management program for the entire term of parole.

The Attorney General further presented the testimony of Daniel Stout, who previously supervised the East Bay parole region and is currently assigned to the sex offender unit of parole headquarters. Mr. Stout participates in the drafting and editing process for contracts between CASOMB certified sex offender management program providers and the Division of Adult Parole Operations. He testified that it is the policy of the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation and the Division of Adult Parole Operations that a sex offender management program as defined in Penal Code § 3008 cannot be completed short of discharge from parole. This was consistent with Dr. Loree's testimony of her understanding that Penal Code § 3008(d)(2) requires sex offender parolees to maintain "some connection to treatment" for the entire period of parole until discharge. Dr. Loree testified that Petitioner would be required to complete all twelve modules of maintenance with the HOPE program before moving to aftercare.

Petitioner's grievance sought admission to "maintenance" with the same level of program contact that had been required at Shaping Success – monthly individual check-ins and no group treatment. The testimony at the evidentiary hearing established that the minimum level of supervision required for "maintenance" at HOPE is participation in group meetings every other week and quarterly individual sessions. The testimony of the parole witnesses established that any appeal of Petitioner's grievance denial would be a futile act – the Division of Adult Parole Operations defers to the treatment provider's determination of the frequency of treatment, and HOPE's minimum maintenance treatment requirement exceeds the amount of programming required by the former provider. In this case, Petitioner can positively state what the administrative agency's decision in his particular case would be. The Court finds that he is not required to exhaust remedies under these circumstances.

B. Mootness/Unripe for Review

The Attorney General further contends that the petition is moot or unripe for review because Petitioner has already "received the relief he requested." Respondent's Return to the Order to Show Cause; Supporting Memorandum of Points and Authorities, p. 13, L. 23. It is apparent from the face of both the grievance and the petition for habeas corpus that Petitioner has not received the relief that he requested. Petitioner requested to be "placed back on maintenance with the same frequency of contact that I had with Shaping Success provider". (emphasis added by the Court). The evidence at the hearing amply demonstrated that not only has Petitioner not been placed in treatment at the same frequency of contact as previously required, but that the structure of the HOPE program makes it impossible for him to be placed on the same level of contact. He will either be included in the maintenance phase, which requires group meetings every other week that Shaping Success did not require; or he will eventually transition to aftercare, which includes individual check-ins "as directed" rather than monthly.

Further, Petitioner's writ relief request seeks relief beyond that described in his parole grievance. He seeks a declaration by the Court that he has successfully completed the required sex offender management program defined in Penal Code § 3008, and that the Court order the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation to cease requiring Petitioner's participation in an "additional" sex offender management program. As discussed above in relation to exhaustion, it is apparent from the testimony offered at the hearing that the Division of Adult Parole Operations takes the position that a "sex offender management program" cannot be completed prior to discharge from parole, and that Petitioner's completion of the treatment phase of the Shaping Success program does not satisfy the obligation for completion of a "sex offender management program". The Attorney General's contention that the petition is moot or unripe lacks merit.

C. Length of Participation in Sex Offender Treatment/Management

1. Habeas Corpus Relief

The fundamental goals of parole are to "'help individuals reintegrate into society as constructive individuals'", "'to end criminal careers through the rehabilitation of those convicted of crime'", and to [help them] become self-supporting." In re Hudson (2006) 14 Cal.App.4th 1, at p. 9, citing In re Stevens (2004) 119 Cal.App.4th 1228 at 1233. A condition of parole will not be held invalid unless it 1) has no relationship to the crime of which the offender was convicted, 2) relates to conduct which is not in itself criminal, and 3) requires or forbids conduct which is not reasonably related to future criminality. Conversely, a condition of parole which requires or forbids conduct which is not itself criminal is valid if that conduct is reasonably related to the crime of which the defendant was convicted or to future criminality. People v. Lent (1975) 15 Cal.3d 481 at 486.

Penal Code § 3008(a) requires the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation to "ensure that all parolees under active supervision who are deemed to pose a high risk to the public of committing sex crimes, as determined by the State-Authorized Risk Assessment Tool for Sex Offender (SARATSO), … are placed on intensive and specialized parole supervision." Penal Code § 3008(c) further requires the Department to "develop control and containment programming for sex offenders who have been deemed to pose a high risk to the public of committing a sex crime, as determined by the SARATSO, and shall require participation in appropriate programming as a condition of parole." (emphasis added by the Court). Penal Code § 3008(d)(2) provides that:

> Persons placed on parole on or after July 1, 2012, shall successfully complete a sex offender management program, following the standards developed pursuant to Section 9003, as a condition of parole. The length of the period in the program shall be not less than one year, up to the entire period of parole, as determined by the certified sex offender management professional in consultation with the parole officer and as approved by the court. Participation in this program applies to every person described without regard to when his or her crimes were committed.

Petitioner was convicted of sodomy by force, with the resulting requirement that he register as a sex offender pursuant to Penal Code § 290. The Static-99R is the SARATSO used by the Department to determine risk level, and the hearing evidence establishes that Petitioner's SARATSO score places him in the "high-risk" category. The challenged special condition of parole requiring him to "report to and actively participate in a Division of Adult Parole Operations approved sex offender treatment program" is statutorily required. Applying the Lent test, Petitioner's habeas corpus claim fails. On its face, the challenged special condition of parole is reasonably related both to the crime of which Petitioner was convicted and to his future criminality.

Petitioner's argument that his completion of the "treatment" phase of Shaping Success qualifies as completion of the single sex offender management program required by Penal Code § 3008 is without merit. Petitioner's completion of group counseling with Shaping Success did not result in the termination of his further participation in the program. He was still required to report monthly for individual check-ins and to complete periodic polygraph testing. His certificate of treatment completion expressly stated that it was not certification that had completed the sex offender management program and that further requirements applied. Petitioner never "completed" a sex offender management program, and the current requirement for participation in the HOPE program is a continuation of the original program with a different provider – not a second program. Petitioner's habeas corpus claim is denied.

2. Court Approval of Length of Participation in Sex Offender Management Program per Penal Code § 3008(d)(2)

Petitioner further asks the Court to exercise the statutory discretion conferred by Penal Code § 3008(d)(2) to set the length of the required sex offender management program in his case as something less than the entire period of parole. The Court grants that request for the following reasons. Penal Code § 3008(d)(2) fixes the length of a sex offender management program as no less than one year and up to the entire period of parole "as determined by the sex offender management professional in consultation with the parole officer and as approved by the court." The evidence in this case demonstrates that the "consultation" contemplated by the statute between the sex offender management professional and parole in this case worked only one way – the program told parole what was required and parole deferred. The HOPE program's determined level of necessary treatment for parolees who had completed Shaping Success's treatment phase was not dependent on individualized criteria. All parolees moving into the HOPE program were required to complete at least two new sets of group counseling – the "pre-treatment" seven module phase, and the "maintenance" twelve module phase – without regard to their individual risk assessments[1], likelihood of re-offense, or history on parole supervision. Both the CASOMB provider and the Division of Adult Parole Operations take the position that a sex offender cannot successfully "complete" a sex offender management treatment program short of being discharged from parole. The discretion

[1] While Dr. Loree's testimony established that HOPE conducted both static and dynamic risk assessments on intake, the testimony also established that all offenders had to complete the seven module "pre-treatment" phase, and all were placed into the twelve module maintenance phase regardless of score. There was apparently no evaluation as to whether maintenance or aftercare placement was appropriate, and no explanation of how the Shaping Success treatment "curriculum" differed from HOPE's such that HOPE's programming was non-duplicative of that already completed by Shaping Success parolees in the "maintenance" phase.

conferred by statute on the Division of Adult Parole Operations and this CASOMB provider is apparently being exercised in all cases to require participation in a sex offender management program for the entire term of parole, apparently without reference to the individualized performance of each parolee. Discretion exercised in that fashion vitiates the Legislature's directive that program participation should last at least one year and "up to" the entire parole term, and effectively requires all parolees participating in this program to do so for the entire term of parole.

The Court, in other cases, has certainly encountered parolees for whom public safety demands participation in a sex offender management program for the entire term of parole. Such a requirement may be justified by a parolee's resistance to supervision, refusal to genuinely engage in treatment, refusal to accept responsibility for the commitment offense, and other similar factors. None of those considerations are present in Petitioner's case. The Legislature's guidance on the purpose of parole is as follows:

> [T]he period immediately following incarceration is critical to successful reintegration of the offender into society and to positive citizenship. It is in the interest of public safety for the state to provide for the effective supervision of and surveillance of parolees, including the judicious use of revocation actions, and to provide educational, vocational, family, and personal counseling necessary to assist parolees in the transition between imprisonment and discharge. Penal Code § 3000(a)(1).

In this case, the undisputed evidence establishes that Petitioner is meeting the goals of successful reintegration into society. His prior CASOMB-certified provider certified to parole that he had "demonstrated sufficient progress in meeting the goals and objectives of an individualized treatment plan" so as to no longer require group counseling. (Exhibit 9H). He has stable housing and employment. He has progressed in his trade and has enrolled in community college to advance his career prospects. He has a stable family. His performance on parole for at least the last three years has been so positive that his supervising parole officer has recommended his complete discharge from parole supervision, and that recommendation was approved for submission to the Board by multiple supervisory layers of parole administration. Petitioner's other special conditions of parole require in relevant part:

continuous GPS monitoring, parole approval of employment, parole approval of residence with accompanying curfew hours, restrictions on travel, substantial restrictions on use of any computer with accompanying search conditions, and participation in both substance abuse and mental health treatment as directed by parole. Petitioner's other parole conditions are sufficient to meet the public safety requirement for effective supervision and surveillance. His continued engagement in the HOPE program does not serve to "assist [Petitioner] in the transition between imprisonment and discharge", since his parole agent and that agent's supervisors have apparently determined that he is ready for a recommended earned discharge. The Court exercises the authority conferred by Penal Code § 3008(d)(2) to disapprove any further participation in a sex offender management program as a condition of Petitioner's parole, and fixes the length of the required sex offender management program as terminating on March 20, 2023.

DISPOSITION

For the foregoing reasons, the Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus is HEREBY DENIED. Pursuant to the authority granted by Penal Code § 3008(d)(2), the Court disapproves any further participation in a sex offender management program as a condition of parole, and fixes the length of the sex offender management treatment program required by his sentence as terminating on March 20, 2023.

ALLIANCE FOR CONSTITUTIONAL SEX OFFENSE LAWS, INC. v. MACOMBER

Case Number: 23STCP02378

Hearing Date: December 13, 2023

[Tentative] ORDER OVERRULING DEMURRER

Respondent, Jeff Macomber, Secretary of the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR), demurs to the petition for writ of mandate filed by Petitioners, Alliance for Constitutional Sex Offense Laws, Inc., Christopher Sandahl, Joshua Morales, Alexander Flores, John Doe # 1, and John Doe # 2 (collectively, Petitioners).

Petitioners' unopposed Request for Judicial Notice (RJN) of Exhibits A and B is granted.

SUMMARY OF PETITION ALLEGATIONS

The five individual Petitioners are parolees subject to the jurisdiction of the CDCR. Petitioner, Alliance for Constitutional Sex Offense Laws, Inc., is a non-profit organization. (Pet. ¶¶ 9-17.)

Petitioners contend "CDCR's regulations, policies, and practices are inconsistent with and in conflict with the statutory requirements of the 'Containment Model' of parole supervision codified in Penal Code section 3008, subds. (d)(1)-(d)(4), and related statutes." (Pet. ¶ 1.)

The petition alleges Penal Code section 3008, subdivision (d) and related statutes codify the Containment Model. (Pet. ¶¶ 20-24.) The petition explains Penal Code "Section 3008(d) requires each Registrant on parole to 'successfully complete a sex offender management program . . . as a condition of parole.' (Cal. Penal Code § 3008, subd. (d)(2), emphasis added.)" (Pet. ¶ 2.) "[T]he Legislature declared that 'the length of the period in the program shall be not less than one year, up to the entire period of parole, as determined by the certified sex offender management professional in consultation with the parole officer and as approved by the court.' (Cal. Penal Code § 3008, subd. (d)(2), emphasis added.) In other words, Section 3008(d) requires CDCR to provide Registrants the opportunity to 'complete,' and thereby terminate their participation in, the management program as early as one year after placement on parole." (Pet. ¶ 3.)[1]

As relevant to this demurer, the petition alleges, in conflict with Penal Code section 3008, subdivision (d), CDCR regulations, policy, and practice do not allow registrants to complete and discontinue the management program prior to discharge from parole. (Pet. ¶¶ 31-55, 57-60.) Among others, relevant allegations in support of this claim include the following:

> The only CDCR regulation that expressly implements Section 3008 and the management program it requires as a condition of parole is Title 15, Section 3573, of the Code of Regulations. . . . Notably, no provision of Section 3573 or any other regulation allows for the 'completion' of the management program. Nor does Section 3573 or any other regulation allow for termination of a Registrant's participation in the management program prior to discharge from parole, as Section 3008(d) contemplates. (Pet. ¶ 32.)

Rather, CDCR and CDCR, as a matter of policy, retain all Registrants in a management program until their discharge date, regardless of whether they have completed the treatment curriculum, and regardless of the Registrant's individual treatment needs, supervision level, or risk of re-offense. >
> The Registrant challenged the requirement to repeat the treatment curriculum in a petition for writ of habeas corpus, invoking the Court's discretionary authority to terminate a sex offender management program after one year pursuant to Section 3008. The Court held an evidentiary hearing at which it found that the sole basis for retaining the Registrant in the management program was CDCR's policy of requiring all Registrants to participate in the program for the duration of parole, regardless of their individual treatment needs. (Exh. A, at p. 10.) CDCR agents including the Registrant's individual parole agent, as well the parole administrator for the East Bay District (Alameda and Contra Costa County), confirmed that policy in response to the Court's inquiry:
> [THE COURT:] Have you ever during the time that you have been in the positions that you have described were responsible to 290 registrants seen a participant in a sex offender management program complete such a program prior to[] termination or discharge from parole?
> THE [CDCR] WITNESS: No.

A, at pp. 6-7 ["[A former East Bay region supervisor from CDCR] testified that it is the policy of the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation and the Division of Adult Parole Operations that a sex offender management program as defined in Penal Code § 3008 cannot be completed short of discharge 3 from parole."].) (Pet. ¶ 39.)

Based on these and other allegations, Petitioners seek a writ of mandate directing Respondent "to amend and revise its regulations implementing Penal Code section 3008(d), including its Regulations at Code of Regulations, Title 15, section 3573, to permit Penal Code section 290 Registrants supervised by CDCR on parole to complete and be terminated from the sex offender management program required by Penal Code section 3008(d) after one year in the program, and prior to discharge from parole." (Pet. ¶¶ 56-61 and Prayer ¶ A.)

In the second cause of action for declaratory relief, Petitioners pray for "a judgment declaring that Penal Code section 3008(d) prohibits CDCR from retaining, as a matter of policy or practice, all Registrants in a sex offender management program for the entire term of parole." (Pet. ¶¶ 63-68 and Prayer ¶ B.)

LEGAL STANDARD FOR DEMURRER

A demurrer tests the sufficiency of a pleading, and the grounds for a demurrer must appear on the face of the pleading or from judicially noticeable matters. (Code Civil Proc., § 430.30, subd. (a); Blank v. Kirwan (1985) 39 Cal.3d 311, 318.) "We assume the truth of the allegations in the complaint, but do not assume the truth of contentions, deductions, or conclusions of law." (California Logistics, Inc. v. State of California (2008) 161 Cal.App.4th 242, 247.) "A demurrer tests the pleadings alone and not the evidence or other extrinsic matters." (Hahn v. Mirda (2007) 147 Cal.App.4th 740, 747.) The allegations in the petition must be liberally construed in favor of a petitioner on demurrer. (See Mobil Oil Corp. v Exxon Corp. (1986) 177 Cal.App.3d 942, 947.) "A demurrer must dispose of an entire cause of action to be sustained." (Poizner v. Fremont General Corp. (2007) 148 Cal.App.4th 97, 119.)

ANALYSIS

First Cause of Action – Writ of Mandate

The first cause of action is for ordinary mandate pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 1085. There are two essential requirements to the issuance of an ordinary writ of mandate:

(1) a clear, present, and ministerial duty on the part of the respondent, and (2) a clear, present, and beneficial right on the part of the petitioner to the performance of that duty. (California Ass'n for Health Services at Home v. Department of Health Services (2007) 148 Cal.App.4th 696, 704.) "An action in ordinary mandamus is proper where . . . the claim is that an agency has failed to act as required by law." (Id. at 705.)

"Generally, mandamus is available to compel a public agency's performance or to correct an agency's abuse of discretion when the action being compelled or corrected is ministerial." (AIDS Healthcare Foundation v. Los Angeles County Dept. of Public Health (2011) 197 Cal.App.4th 693, 700.) "A ministerial act is an act that a public officer is required to perform in a prescribed manner in obedience to the mandate of legal authority and without regard to his own judgment or opinion concerning such act's propriety or impropriety, when a given state of facts exists." (Kavanaugh v. West Sonoma County Union High School Dist. (2003) 29 Cal.4th 911, 916.)

" 'While, of course, it is the general rule that mandamus will not lie to control the discretion of a court or officer, meaning by that that it will not lie to force the exercise of discretion in a particular manner . . . [it] will lie to correct abuses of discretion, and will lie to force a particular action by the inferior tribunal or officer, when the law clearly establishes the petitioner's right to such action.' " (Flores v. Dept. of Corrections & Rehabilitation (2014) 224 Cal.App.4th 199, 208.)

Respondent argue Petitioners have not stated a cause of action for mandate because:

(1) Petitioners failed to exhaust their administrative remedies in CDCR's "robust administrative grievance and appeal process (Memo 11:6-7); (2) the petition provides "no factual support" (Memo 12:18); (3) Petitioners "fail to establish a ministerial duty or valid rule making challenge" related to CDCR's regulations (Memo 16:12); and (4) Petitioners have an adequate legal remedy in a petition for writ of habeas corpus. (Memo 16:16.)

Petitioners assert the demurrer misapprehends the nature of the petition and fails to address all pertinent allegations. The court agrees. Respondent's demurrer does not persuasively address Petitioner's specific legal claim or all pertinent allegations, including those based on evidence from In re Frederick Dwyer. For that reason, and the additional reasons outlined below, the demurrer is overruled.[2]

Exhaustion of Administrative Remedies

Exhaustion of administrative remedies is "a jurisdictional prerequisite to judicial review." (California Water Impact Network v. Newhall County Water Dist. (2008) 161 Cal.App.4th 1464, 1489.)
"The exhaustion requirement applies whether relief is sought by traditional (Code Civ. Proc., § 1085) or administrative (Code Civ. Proc., § 1094.5) mandamus." (Eight Unnamed Physicians v. Medical Executive Com. (2007) 150 Cal.App.4th 503, 511.)

"Before seeking judicial review a party must show that he has made a full presentation to the administrative agency upon all issues of the case and at all prescribed stages of the administrative proceedings." (Edgren v. Regents of University of California (1984) 158 Cal.App.3d 515, 520.) There are exceptions to the exhaustion requirement, including "when the subject of the controversy lies outside the administrative agency's jurisdiction, when pursuit of an administrative remedy would result in irreparable harm, when the administrative agency cannot grant an adequate remedy, and when the aggrieved party can positively state what the administrative agency's decision in his particular case would be." (Edgren v. Regents of University of California, supra, 158 Cal.App.3d at 520.)

Respondent contends CDCR's governing regulations establish a "robust administrative grievance and appeal process for inmates and parolees . . . to challenge imposed parole conditions or seek modifications of the conditions imposed before seeking judicial relief." (Memo 11:6-10 [citing Cal. Code Regs., tit. 15, § 3481, subd. (a).)[3] CDCR's exhaustion argument might be persuasive if Petitioners were seeking writs to terminate their own participation in a treatment program or other relief specific to their individual parole conditions. However, Petitioners do not seek such relief. Instead, Petitioners challenge the legality of CDCR's regulatory implementation of Penal Code section 3008 and the sex offender management and treatment program (SOMP) across the state. Petitioners "seek a writ of mandate directing CDCR to amend its regulations to authorize completion of and termination from the sex offender management program prior to discharge from parole." (See Pet. ¶ 6; see also ¶¶ 34-41, 56-61, and Prayer.)

The petition asserts certain CDCR promulgated regulations, in addition to its policies and practices for implementing such regulations, conflict with a controlling statute. Parties are "not required to exhaust administrative remedies" when they "attempt to enforce [an agency's] compliance with . . . controlling statutes," or when the challenged agency action "is based upon a regulation it promulgated." (United Teachers-L.A. v. Los Angeles Unified School Dist. (1994) 24 Cal. App. 4th 1510, 1519 n.4; Sabatasso v. Superior Court (2008) 167 Cal. App. 4th 791, 795.) While the regulation (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 15, § 3481, subd. (a)) does authorize the claimant to submit a grievance disputing a "policy" of CDCR, Respondent fails to develop an argument the regulation provides an administrative remedy for a challenge to CDCR's promulgated regulations and state-wide implementation of such regulations. Nor does Respondent cite any statutory authority or case law supporting its position.

Petitioners have sufficiently pleaded an excuse from the exhaustion requirement, including lack of adequate administrative remedy.

Petitioners Have Alleged Sufficient Facts to State a Cause of Action for Ordinary Mandate, including a Ministerial Duty

Respondent contends "[t]here is no factual support for the petitioners' claim that all sex offenders must participate in all aspects of the SOMP [supervision, treatment, and polygraph] for the duration of their statutory parole term." (Memo 12:18-20.) Citing allegations pertaining to the individual Petitioners, Respondent contends "the petitioners' cherry-picked facts do not support their claim that sex offenders are always held to their statutory maximum parole period and required to participate in SOMP for that duration . . . ." (Memo 13:12-14.)

To be sure, Petitioners are not required to provide "factual support" at the pleading stage. "A pleading 'is sufficient if it alleges ultimate rather than evidentiary facts.' " (Foster v. Sexton (2021) 61 Cal.App.5th 998, 1027.)

Petitioners have alleged the following ultimate facts, among others, in support of their traditional writ cause of action:

> [A]s a matter of policy and practice, CDCR does not permit any Registrant to 'complete' the management program prior to discharge from parole, as Section 3008(d) contemplates. Nor does CDCR otherwise allow a Registrant's participation in the management program to be terminated, as Section 3008(d) contemplates. Rather, CDCR and CDCR, as a matter of policy, retain all Registrants in a management program until their discharge date, regardless of whether they have completed the treatment curriculum, and regardless of the Registrant's individual treatment needs, supervision level, or risk of re-offense. (Pet. ¶ 34.)

Although not required at the pleading stage, Petitioners have also pleaded certain evidentiary facts. For example, Petitioners allege in the In re Frederick Dwyer Dwyer habeas corpus proceeding, the trial court heard testimony from a CDCR regional supervisor reporting it is "essentially the policy of the Department of Corrections that completion of the program is not possible before the discharge from parole program." (Pet. ¶ 39.)[4] The petition also provides information about how all five individual Petitioners have been "retained in the management program indefinitely rather than evaluated for termination from the program, as Section 3008(d) contemplates." (Pet. ¶¶ 43-55.) These ultimate facts and factual allegations are sufficient to state a claim.

Relatedly, Respondent contends Petitioners have not alleged a ministerial duty owed by Respondent and enforceable by mandate. (Memo 14:8-16:12.) Although the argument is not well developed and is unclear, Respondent appears to contend section 3573 of title 15 of the California Code of Regulations (Section 3573) "does not amend, impair, or limit the scope of section 3008(d)(2) as nothing in Penal Code section 3008(d)(2) prohibits nor mandates that the Secretary exercise his discretion in any particular manner." (Memo 15:26-28.) Respondent notes the "regulation does not exempt any sex offender parolees from requesting or being granted early discharge from their statutory parole period." (Memo 15:28-16:2.) That a sex offender parolee may request early discharge does not appear to inform on the validity of the regulation.

The petition is partly based on an alleged conflict between Section 3573 and Penal Code section 3008, subdivision (d) (see Pet. ¶ 32), but the petition also alleges "CDCR, as a matter of policy, retain[s] all Registrants in a management program until their discharge date, regardless of whether they have completed the treatment curriculum, and regardless of the Registrant's individual treatment needs, supervision level, or risk of re-offense." (Pet. ¶ 34 [emphasis added].) Further, as to Section 3573, the petition alleges "no provision of Section 3573 or any other regulation allows for the 'completion' of the management program. Nor does Section 3573 or any other regulation allow for termination of a Registrant's participation in the management program prior to discharge from parole, as Section 3008(d) contemplates." (Pet.

Respondent does not demonstrate Petitioner's allegations concerning Section 3573 are incorrect. Even if Section 3573 does not expressly prevent parolees from "requesting or being granted early discharge from their statutory parole period," as argued by Respondent, the petition sufficiently alleges the regulation is interpreted and implemented by CDCR in a manner that conflicts with Penal Code section 3008, subdivision (d).

"[M]andamus may issue to compel an official both to exercise his or her discretion (if he or she is required by law to do so) and to exercise it under a proper interpretation of the applicable law." (California Assn. for Health Servs. at Home v. State Dept. of Health Care Servs. (2012) 204 Cal.App.4th 676, 683; see also Gov. Code, § 11342.2. ["Whenever by the express or implied terms of any statute a state agency has authority to adopt regulations to implement, interpret, make specific or otherwise carry out the provisions of the statute, no regulation adopted is valid or effective unless consistent and not in conflict with the statute and reasonably necessary to effectuate the purpose of the statute."])

Because Petitioners have alleged CDCR's regulations, policies, and practices conflict with the controlling statutes, including Penal Code section 3008, subdivision (d), Petitioners have alleged a cause of action for traditional mandate.

- Petitioners Sufficiently Allege They Lack a Plain, Speedy, and Adequate Remedy in the Ordinary Course of Law

Respondent contends Petitioners have an adequate legal remedy through a petition for writ of habeas corpus "to challenge their parole condition that requires them to participate in the SOMP." (Memo 17:6-7.)

The argument is unpersuasive for at least three reasons. First, it misapprehends the nature of Petitioners' writ claim as a challenge to individual parole conditions, rather than a challenge to Respondent's state-wide regulations, policies, and practices. Second, it ignores applicable case law, which held, in similar circumstances, that "[a] writ of habeas corpus . . . is not available 'in the ordinary course of law'" because it is "an extraordinary remedy." (Villery v. Department of Corrections & Rehabilitation (2016) 246 Cal. App. 4th 407, 415-16.) Finally, Respondent does not demonstrate, for purposes of a demurrer, that numerous habeas corpus petitions challenging CDCR's regulations, policies, and practice would be more "speedy" or "adequate" than a single writ petition raising the same claim.

Respondent does not addressed Villery v. Department of Corrections & Rehabilitation or Petitioners' other contentions regarding the inadequacy of habeas corpus petitions for the claim made in the petition. (Sehulster Tunnels/Pre-Con v. Traylor Brothers, Inc., supra, 111 Cal.App.4th at 1345, fn. 16 [failure to address point is "equivalent to a concession"].)

Petitioners have sufficiently alleged they lack a plain, speedy, and adequate remedy in the ordinary course of law.

- Demurrer for Uncertainty

Respondent contends "use of the fictitious names John Doe # 1 and John Doe # 2 render the petition uncertain and ambiguous providing additional grounds for the Court to sustain the demurrer." (Memo 13:16-17.)

Demurrers for uncertainty are strictly construed. Discovery can be used for clarification. A demurrer for uncertainty is appropriate only where a defendant cannot reasonably determine what issues or claims are stated. (Khoury v. Maly's of Cal., Inc. (1993) 14 Cal.App.4th 612, 616.) "[U]nder our liberal pleading rules, where the complaint contains substantive factual allegations sufficiently apprising defendant of the issues it is being asked to meet, a demurrer for uncertainty should be overruled or plaintiff given leave to amend." (Williams v. Beechnut Nutrition Corp. (1986) 185 Cal.App.3d 135, 139, fn. 2.)

Here, even with the use of fictitious names for Petitioner Does 1 and 2, Respondent can reasonably determine the nature of Petitioners' claims. Notably, Petitioners' claims are also based on allegations concerning the In re Frederick Dwyer litigation and the other, named individual Petitioners. Further, as discussed earlier, the petition does not seek writ relief as to any individual's parole conditions. Instead, Petitioners challenge Respondent's statewide regulations, policies, and practices. In these circumstances, the use of fictitious names for two of the Petitioners does not render the pleading uncertain as asserted by Respondent.

Respondent has not demonstrated his demurrer for uncertainty should be sustained.

New Reply Arguments

In reply, Respondent admittedly challenges the petition based on entirely new arguments not discussed in his demurrer. Specifically, Respondent contends: (1) Petitioners have not alleged sufficient facts to support a facial challenge to Section 3573 (Reply 3:5-6); (2) the petition allegations are insufficient because they are made on "information and belief" and "Petitioners do not rely on their own circumstances or experience in relation to th[e] alleged [unlawful] policy and practice" (Reply 6:9-11); (3) testimony from the In re Frederick Dwyer litigation is insufficient to state a cause of action for mandate (Reply 7:12-14); and (4) Petitioners have not alleged standing to make "as applied" challenges to CDCR's regulations, policies, and practices based on a "hypothetically similar petitioner." (Reply 7:14, fn. 3.)

"The salutary rule is that points raised in a reply brief for the first time will not be considered unless good cause is shown for the failure to present them before." (Balboa Ins. Co. v. Aguirre (1983) 149 Cal.App.3d 1002, 1010; see also Regency Outdoor Advertising v. Carolina Lances, Inc. (1995) 31 Cal.App.4th 1323, 1333.)

Respondent does not show good cause to raise new arguments in reply. The reply arguments are legal in nature and could have been raised in the demurrer. Respondent's counsel's meet and confer declaration states that on August 11, 2023 counsel for Respondent and Petitioner discussed "the Secretary's position that claims raised in the petition failed as a matter of law." (Heinisch Decl. ¶ 4.) Nonetheless, there is no explanation for failing to raise the Respondent's reply arguments in the demurrer. Petitioners have not had a full and fair opportunity to respond in writing to the arguments initially raised in Respondent's reply. Under the circumstances, the court declines to consider the new reply arguments summarized above.[5]

Second Cause of Action – Declaratory Relief

Respondent argues "Petitioners' claim for declaratory relief is wholly and entirely dependent on their claim for mandamus relief" and should be sustained. (Memo 17:10-11.) However, as argued by Petitioners, the second cause of action is based on Government Code section 11350, subdivision (a), in the Administrative Procedures Act and, therefore, is not derivative of the writ cause of action.[6] Respondent does not address the argument in reply and thereby concedes it for purposes of this demurrer. (Sehulster Tunnels/Pre-Con, supra, 111 Cal.App.4th at 1345, fn. 16.)

CONCLUSION

The demurrer is overruled.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Hon. Mitchell Beckloff

Judge of the Superior Court

[1] Specifically, Penal Code section 3008, subdivision (d)(2) provides: "(d) On or after July 1, 2012, the parole conditions of a person released on parole for an offense that requires registration pursuant to Sections 290 to 290.023, inclusive, shall include all of the following: . . . (2) Persons placed on parole on or after July 1, 2012, shall successfully complete a sex offender management program, following the standards developed pursuant to Section 9003, as a condition of parole. The length of the period in the program shall be not less than one year, up to the entire period of parole, as determined by the certified sex offender management professional in consultation with the parole officer and as approved by the court. Participation in this program applies to every person described without regard to when his or her crime or crimes were committed."

[2] In reply, Respondent does not specifically defend the arguments he made in his demurrer. Instead, Respondent makes entirely new arguments which is procedurally improper. In a footnote, Respondent states he "does not abandon any arguments raised in the demurrer. Respondent relies on the arguments as presented in the demurrer in addition to those presented in this reply." (Reply 3, fn. 1.) While Respondent may not have "abandoned" any legal arguments for purposes of this proceeding, he has not responded to many, if not all, of Petitioners' opposition arguments concerning the sufficiency of the pleading. (See Sehulster Tunnels/Pre-Con v. Traylor Brothers, Inc. (2003) 111 Cal.App.4th 1328, 1345, fn. 16 [failure to address point is "equivalent to a concession"].)

[3] The regulation states in part: "A claimant has the ability to submit a written grievance to the department containing one or more claims, subject to the requirements in section 3482, to dispute a policy, decision, action, condition, or omission by the department or departmental staff. . . ." (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 15, § 3482, subd. (a).)

[4] Respondent wholly ignores the In re Frederick Dwyer allegations in the demurrer. In reply, Respondent argues the In re Frederick Dwyer allegations could only be relevant to a claim of collateral estoppel. (Reply 6:27-7:3.) The court disagrees. Whether the In re Frederick Dwyer decision has any collateral estoppel effect, testimony from that action may constitute judicial admissions or otherwise lead to evidence in support of Petitioner's claim. As a result, the ultimate ruling of the San Mateo County Superior Court in In re Frederick Dwyer is not determinative here. (See Reply 7:4-14.)

[5] Alternatively, even if the court considers the new reply arguments, the court reaches the same result and overrules the demurrer for the reasons discussed above and in Petitioners' opposition. Given the liberal pleading standard and the allegations that Respondent's regulations, policies, and practices are unlawful, including based on testimony from a CDCR regional supervisor in the In re Frederick Dwyer litigation, the reply arguments do not persuade the court that the demurrer should be sustained. Of course, Respondent is not precluded from further developing its arguments for the trial on the writ petition.

[6] Government Code section 11350, subdivision (a) states in pertinent part: "Any interested person may obtain a judicial declaration as to the validity of any regulation or order of repeal by bringing an action for declaratory relief in the superior court in accordance with the Code of Civil Procedure. . . . The regulation or order of repeal may be declared to be invalid for a substantial failure to comply with this chapter. . . ."

California Code of Regulations

Title 15. Crime Prevention and Corrections

Division 3. Adult Institutions, Programs and Parole

Chapter 1. Rules and Regulations of Adult Operations and Programs

Subchapter 6. Adult Parole

Article 5. Sex Offenders

3574. Sex Offender Treatment

(a) The requirement for a supervised person to attend sex offender treatment is established pursuant to Penal Code (PC) section 3008(d), persons released to parole and required to register pursuant to PC sections 290 to 290.023 shall participate in a sex offender management program. The sex offender management program is comprised of three treatment phases (Curriculum Phase, Maintenance Phase, Aftercare Phase), Containment Team Meetings (CTM~~s~~), and polygraph examinations. Sex offender treatment providers (who~~m~~ are trained and certified pursuant to PC 290.09) shall be subject to the terms of the California Sex Offender Management Board.

(1) Curriculum Phase, also known as the active phase, is when the supervised person attends individual and group therapy sessions, at the prescribed hours per week, as determined by the sex offender treatment provider. These sessions focus on the goals and objectives of the treatment plan determined by the sex offender treatment provider through the sex offense specific treatment curriculum. It also involves the completion of mandated State Authorized Risk Assessment Tools for Sex Offenders (SARATSO) and the participation in polygraph assessments.

(2) Maintenance Phase is a phase where the supervised person works to maintain the gains made in the curriculum phase. Maintenance phase occurs when a supervised person has addressed the underlying issues related to their offending behavior, developed skills to lead a pro-social life, and mitigated their dynamic risk factors (according to the SARATSO assessment tools), as determined by the sex offender treatment provider, allowing for adjustment of treatment requirements. While in the maintenance phase, the supervised person is expected to continue to work towards their prescribed treatment plan goals, complete SARATSO assessments, participate in polygraph assessments, and attend group sessions as determined by the sex offender treatment provider. The supervised person may be required to attend in person sessions weekly, monthly, or quarterly, based on their predetermined needs and assessments by the sex offender treatment provider.

(3) Aftercare Phase is a voluntary phase in the format of a support group with the sex offender treatment provider. This phase is for supervised persons who voluntarily continue their participation in the sex offender management program after they have successfully completed the curriculum and maintenance phases or persons who have been discharged from parole supervision.

(A) Persons voluntarily participating in the aftercare phase are responsible for any costs associated with participation.

(4) Containment Team Meeting is a meeting with all involved parties, as referenced in subsection 3574(a)(4)(A), whose purpose is to review the supervised person's treatment progress, dynamic risk factors, polygraph results, community reintegration, response to parole supervision, supervision category, and relevant individual case factors to evaluate the supervised person's readiness for sex offender management program completion.

(A) The Containment Team shall normally be comprised of a parole agent, unit supervisor or assistant unit supervisor, supervised person, contracted clinician (licensed psychiatrist, psychologist, or psychiatric social worker directly treating the supervised person), and victim advocacy representative. In the event all members of the Containment Team are not available to meet, the Containment Team shall minimally consist of a contracted clinician, parole agent, unit supervisor or assistant unit supervisor, and the supervised person. The Containment Team may also include other relevant stakeholders (e.g. Division of Adult Parole Operations and community program managers, polygraph examiner, etc.), family members of the supervised person, or any person in the supervised person's life that wishes to participate and can provide a first-hand account of the positive progress the supervised person is making.

(5) A Polygraph is a machine that measures a person's physiological responses when they respond to questions. Polygraph assessments are completed or contracted by the sex offender treatment provider as required by PC section 3008(d)(3).

(b) Persons placed on parole on or after July 1, 2012, required to register pursuant to PC sections 290 to 290.023, inclusive, shall successfully complete a sex offender management program in accordance with PC section 3008(d). Program participation shall be no less than one year, up to the entire period of parole. Participation in the sex offender management program is required, regardless of when the qualifying offense was committed.

(c) The sex offender treatment provider prescribes the number of treatment hours per week as determined by the supervised person's risks, needs, responsivity, and offense-free time in the community.

(d) Supervised persons may complete a sex offender management program before discharge from parole, as contemplated by the PC section 3008(d).

(e) The Containment Team's review of program completion is solely to determine the length of a supervised person's participation and progress in sex offender treatment. This review is independent of whether the supervised person should be discharged from parole and the electronic monitoring requirements of the supervised person pursuant to PC 3010.10. The CTM schedule shall be as follows:

(1) The ~~first~~ initial CTM shall be between ~~within~~ 90 and 100 calendar days ~~of~~ from release to parole, or ~~within~~ between 90 and 100 calendar days ~~of the supervised person's revocation release date~~ following a release of a supervised person who has spent 90 days or more in custody. The purpose of this CTM is to determine the most appropriate level of parole supervision needed for monitoring the supervised person while in the community, in accordance with Section 3573(c).

(2) The second CTM shall be within nine months following the first CTM (one-year CTM). This is the first review to determine whether the supervised person's sex offender management program requirements have been satisfied, completing their statutory requirement to successfully complete a sex offender management program.

(3) All subsequent CTMs shall be at least annually thereafter in accordance with the supervised person's level of parole supervision.

(f) When the Containment Team makes a determination to retain a participant in a sex offender management program, the determination shall be supported by good cause, as defined in Section 3000. A determination to retain a supervised person in a sex offender management program shall be stated in writing, signed by the sex offender treatment provider and parole agent on the CDCR Form 3043 Containment Team Meeting / Earned Discharge Consideration Committee (Rev.~~7~~11/24), which is incorporated by reference. This completed form shall be delivered to the supervised person within 30 calendar days of the CTM and maintained in the supervised person's file. Reasons to retain a supervised person in a sex offender management program may include, but are not limited to:

(1) Pursuant to Section 3573, a Level of Service or Case Management Inventory (LS/CMI) score of 11 or higher.

(2) Pursuant to Section 3573, a Stable-2007 score of four or higher for males only.

(3) A current polygraph completed with deception found or new disclosure admissions that the supervised person has committed acts that would incur a technical or law violation.

(4) Parole violation(s), relevant to the supervised person's sex offense or adherence to the Conditions and Special Conditions of Parole associated with their sex offense, that occurred within one year of the review.

(g) The parole agent and unit supervisor may re-refer a supervised person to a sex offender management program for evaluation if there is a change in the supervised person's behaviors related to the risk of re-offense to a level likely to lead to a risk to public safety, using the CDCR 1502 (Rev. 07/24) Activity Report. A re-referral may also be initiated at the request of the supervised person.

(1) Upon re-referral, the sex offender treatment provider shall complete the dynamic risk and violence risk assessments, pursuant to section 3573 and PC sections 290.04 and 290.09, to determine if the risk to re-offend has increased.

(A) If risk to re-offend has increased, the supervised person will be required to attend the sex offender management program, with the prescribed hours of treatment being determined by the sex offender treatment provider, until the increased risk to re-offend has been mitigated. While the supervised person is attending a sex offender management program, CTMs shall be re-established in accordance with Section 3574.

(B) If the sex offender treatment provider determines there is no increased risk in re-offense, the re-referral shall be considered closed, and the sex offender management program requirements remain completed.

FINAL STATEMENT OF REASONS

The Initial Statement of Reasons (ISOR) is incorporated by reference.

UPDATES TO THE INITIAL STATEMENT OF REASONS:

On January 3, 2025, the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR or the department) published the Notice of Change to Regulations for Sex Offender Treatment, which began the public comment period. The department's Notice of Change to Regulations #25-01 was mailed the same day to individuals who had requested to be on the department's mailing list for regulation changes, was posted on the department's website, and copies were posted in CDCR institutions. Five written public comments were received during the public comment period. The comments are summarized and responded to below under the heading Summaries and Responses to Written Public Comments Received During the Initial Comment Period. A public hearing was held on February 20, 2025. The department received no comments during the public hearing.

DETERMINATIONS, ASSESSMENTS, MANDATES, AND FISCAL IMPACT:

The department has determined that no alternative considered would be more effective in carrying out the purpose for which this regulation is proposed or would be as effective and less burdensome to affected private persons or would be more cost effective to affected private persons and equally effective in implementing the statutory policy or other provision of law than the action proposed. No such alternatives were proposed or brought to the department's attention during the adoption of this rulemaking action.

The department has made an initial determination that the action will not have a significant adverse economic impact on business. Additionally, there has been no testimony or other evidence provided that would alter the department's initial determination.

The department has determined that this action imposes no mandates on local agencies or school districts, or a mandate which requires reimbursement pursuant to Part 7 (Section 17561) of Division 4 of the Government Code (GC).

The department has determined that no reasonable alternatives to the regulation have been identified or brought to the attention of the department that would lessen any adverse impact on affected private persons or small businesses than the action planned.

The department, in proposing the adoption of these regulations, has not identified nor has it relied upon any technical, theoretical, or empirical study, report, or similar document.

The department has relied upon the results of the Economic Impact Assessment, which can be found in the Notice of Proposed Regulations and is available for review as part of the rulemaking file.

NOTE REGARDING CDCR FORMS INCORPORATED BY REFERENCE (CCR, TITLE 1, SECTION 20):

This note explains the department's justification for incorporating forms by reference. The department uses over 1,500 forms, most of which are regulatory. It would be unduly cumbersome, expensive and impractical to print all of these forms in the CCR text, therefore the department has always incorporated forms by reference, except in specific circumstances which do not apply in the case of these regulations.

The adopted, amended, and/or repealed forms included in this rulemaking action were made available to the public for review and were included in the notice of rulemaking sent to all parties who have requested notification.

AUTHORITY AND REFERENCES CITATIONS:

Penal Code sections 5058, 5058.3, 290 through 290.023, 3008, 5054, and 9003.

SUMMARIES AND RESPONSES TO WRITTEN PUBLIC COMMENTS RECEIVED DURING THE INITIAL COMMENT PERIOD:

Commenter #1

Comment 1: Pursuant to Section 3573, a Stable-2007 score of "four or higher for males only" shall be, amended to include but not limited to Transgender Men and Transgender Women. In addition, to include any sexual predator who is a biological person whose identity includes not soley Male or Transgender Female, or nonbinary. A stable score shall also be applicable to former biological males that now identify with an identity other than male.

In addition, it is imperative that the Aftercare Phase is a Mandatory Outpatient phase in the format of a support group with the sex offender treatment provider. The phase shall be for supervised persons and shall be mandated for no less than one, continuous year, to continue the sex offender's participation in the sex offender management program after the sex offender has successfully completed the curriculum and maintenance phases, or persons who have been discharged from parole supervision.

Response 1:

California Code of Regulations (CCR), Title 15, Section 3574 Sex Offender Treatment (f) (2) references reasons to retain a supervised person in a sex offender management program. Pursuant to this section, a Stable-2007 score of four or higher for males only is a factor. The California Sex Offender Management Board (CASOMB) has established State Authorized Risk Assessment Tools for Sex Offenders (SARATSO). These assessments are validated, and sex offender management professionals utilize the appropriate coding manual and addendums for determining scoring. The Stable-2007 is for males only and utilizes the appropriate coding. Gender identity is not a factor in the validation or application of the tool.

Regarding part two of the comment, CCR Title 15, Section 3574, Sex Offender Treatment, provides for a comprehensive evaluation of risk and needs for each supervised person. Sex Offender Treatment (SOT) participation is based on risk of re-offense to a level likely to lead to a risk to public safety. When the supervised person has successfully completed the maintenance phase it has been determined that their risk and needs have decreased sufficiently to complete treatment. Additionally, requiring a person to attend a phase of treatment after it has been determined that they have successfully completed contradicts the purpose of the regulation. Lastly, aftercare phase is also voluntarily, attended by those who have discharged parole. The Division of Adult Parole Operations (DAPO) does not have the authority to require a person attend treatment if that person is no longer under the jurisdiction of DAPO.

Commenter #2

Comment: Commenter is an incarcerated person from High Desert State Prison. Commenter wants to know if there is a part from the proposed regulations for incarcerated persons who plead “no contest.” Commenter states these people were accused of horrible charges and had no choice but to accept deals. Commenter states these groups should be able to live their life without watching their backs. These incarcerated persons should be reviewed on a case-by-case basis, including review of the programs complete while incarcerated, and the evidence for the crime accused of, upon their release.

Response 2:

The requirement for persons placed on parole, that are required to register pursuant to Penal Code (PC) sections 290 to 290.023, inclusive, attend sex offender treatment as required by PC 3008(d). Specifically, PC 3008(d)(2) states, “Persons placed on parole on or after July 1, 2012, shall successfully complete a sex offender management program, following the standards developed pursuant to Section 9003, as a condition of parole. The length of the period in the program shall be not less than one year, up to the entire period of parole, as determined by the certified sex offender management professional in consultation with the parole officer and as approved by the court. Participation in this program applies to every person described without regard to when his or her crime or crimes were committed.”

These regulations only establish parameters for the existing PC and are unable to alter the existing requirements set forth by PC.

Commenter #3

Comment 3: Commenter is an incarcerated person who provides some background information to their incarceration and sentencing. Commenter states that there are no rehabilitation efforts for incarcerated persons who are sentences as sex offenders, only punitive efforts. Commenter provides support for the proposed sex offender treatment program, but states that sex offender treatment efforts should be offered before release and completed during incarceration not after release, due to different life circumstances after release.

Response 3:

These regulations only establish parameters for the existing PC and are unable to alter the existing requirements set forth by PC. DAPO must abide by PC 3008(d)(2), which states, “Persons placed on parole on or after July 1, 2012, shall successfully complete a sex offender management program, following the standards developed pursuant to Section 9003, as a condition of parole. The length of the period in the program shall be not less than one year, up to the entire period of parole, as determined by the certified sex offender management professional in consultation with the parole officer and as approved by the court. Participation in this program applies to every person described without regard to when his or her crime or crimes were committed.”

Additionally, the proposed regulations are regarding Sex Offender Treatment after the release from incarceration. The proposed regulations do not address institutional sex offender treatment programs or their availability. Therefore, the department cannot speak to or address this subject matter at the moment.

Lastly, your comment identifies concerns for potential costs associated with a supervised person’s request for a voluntary re-referral to SOT. PC 3008(e) states, “Any defendant ordered to be placed in an approved sex offender management treatment program pursuant to subdivision (d) shall be responsible for paying the expense of their participation in the program. The department shall take into consideration the ability of the defendant to pay, and no defendant shall be denied discharge onto parole because of their inability to pay.”

Commenter #4

Comments 4 and 5 are duplicative: Commenter is a sex offender treatment provider and is responding to NCR 25-05 to solicitate their services and be considered as a contractor to provide sex offender treatment services.

Response 4: The comment is either insufficiently related to the specific action or actions proposed, or too generalized or personalized to the extent that no meaningful response can be formulated by the department in refutation of or accommodation to the comment. Therefore, the comment is being dismissed.

Additionally, the department responded to the commenter with resources on how to bid on state contracts.

All figures are derived directly from the facts and prayer in the verified Complaint for Damages (attached as Exhibit A to your claim if permitted) and will be proven at trial.

Loss of Liberty (Per Diem Value):

California law (Penal Code § 3001(a)(2) and 15 CCR § 3574) required discharge after one year unless good cause was shown with mandatory procedural safeguards. Defendants' fabricated eligibility rules, "Eagan" copy-paste error, omitted CTM/Form 3043, and failure to serve notice caused ongoing unlawful parole supervision (24/7 GPS, curfew, travel restrictions, mandatory HOPE treatment multiple times per week, searches, etc.).

These conditions constitute custodial restraint. The per diem value is substantial and established according to proof, but in no event less than $100 per day from November 19, 2025 (final approval date) onward.

- From November 19, 2025, to claim presentation (February 10, 2026) ≈ 84 days = $8,400 minimum.
- This continues to accrue daily until discharge or judgment (projected future loss according to proof).

Out-of-Pocket Economic Costs of Forced Compliance:

Direct expenses caused by the unlawful retention, including:

- Transportation to HOPE treatment (≈30 miles round-trip, multiple sessions per week) at the IRS standard mileage rate.
- Time value of attendance (6–8 hours per week, including travel) at a reasonable hourly rate.
- Program fees, polygraph examinations, and mandated assessments.
- GPS equipment maintenance and charging costs.These are ongoing and will be proven at trial.

Non-Economic Damages (Emotional Distress, etc.):

Severe, ongoing distress from: continuous GPS on a fabricated basis; humiliation of being labeled "non-compliant" or "failed" treatment (structurally impossible under HOPE's blanket policy); psychological harm from the "Eagan" error in the official report; chronic anxiety, sleep disruption, hypervigilance, and entrapment in a system with no achievable exit. Full amount according to proof.

Punitive Damages:

Against the individual defendants (Moua, Noguchi, Dodd, Rojo) for willful, oppressive conduct (conscious disregard of judicially condemned practices in Dwyer (2023) and the April 2025 regulatory amendments).

The total already far exceeds $25,000 and continues to grow daily. No statutory cap applies to general or punitive damages. All calculations follow the Complaint's prayer (pages 21–22) and the per-diem minimum expressly pled. Supporting evidence (Discharge Review Report, court orders in Dwyer and Macomber, 15 CCR § 3574) is available upon request or at trial.

Please briefly describe the damages or injury you are claiming.
Note: You will be able to attach supporting documents on the last page of this form.
Ongoing unlawful parole supervision caused by the defective November 2025 Discharge Review Report (CDCR Form 1502-DR). Defendants applied fabricated eligibility rules (including a nonexistent "6.5-year" minimum and "10-year parole term" exclusion), inserted another parolee's name ("Eagan") in the official justification, omitted every mandatory procedural safeguard required by 15 CCR § 3574 (CTM, Form 3043, good-cause findings), and failed to serve the report on me.
Injuries claimed:
- Continued deprivation of liberty through 24/7 GPS monitoring, curfew, travel and association restrictions, warrantless searches, and mandatory HOPE sex-offender treatment (multiple sessions per week) without lawful authority — valued at no less than $100 per day since November 19, 2025 and continuing.
- Out-of-pocket compliance costs (transportation to treatment, program fees, polygraphs, GPS maintenance).
- Severe emotional distress, anxiety, humiliation, sleep disruption, hypervigilance, and reputational harm from being labeled "non-compliant" and "failed treatment" on a procedurally void and factually erroneous official document.

Total damages already exceed $25,000 and continue to accrue daily. Full amount (economic, non-economic, and punitive against individuals) will be proven at trial. See attached Complaint for Damages and government tort claim for details.
