Mr. Frederick:

Thank you for your August 24, 2026 notice of appearance.

Amazon's responsive pleading is due today. The first attachment offers a 14-day extension, through and including September 14, 2026, as to Amazon only. Please confirm by reply e-mail by 5:00 p.m. Pacific Time today. If Amazon has already filed a responsive pleading today, the offer still stands — tell me and I will sign a stipulation taking it off calendar.

The second attachment is my opening demand to settle as to Amazon alone — $250,000.00, matching the Code of Civil Procedure section 425.115 notice already on file as to Amazon — with a response requested by September 11, 2026. It is a compromise communication under Evidence Code section 1152 and Federal Rule of Evidence 408. Section V asks Amazon to produce four items voluntarily and early, before either side spends money on motion practice; I have not framed it as a statutory demand.

I have made Accurate Background the same 14-day offer separately through its counsel, but the two are independent and this demand is directed to Amazon alone.

Please also confirm that you consent to electronic service at this address under Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6.

Regards,

Brendan Ngehsi Newanforbi

Dear Mr. Newanforbi,

Thank you for your email and for reaching out about this matter.

I wanted to let you know that we removed the case to federal court today (USDC, Northern District of California) and a copy of the removal has been sent to your address listed on the caption page. It should arrive tomorrow.

Under the federal rules of civil procedure, Amazon's deadline to respond to the complaint is now September 8, 2026. Would you agree to extend Amazon's deadline to respond to the complaint to September 22, 2026? If so, I can send you a draft stipulation to review.

Yes, I consent to electronic service with my Morgan Lewis email address for this matter. Could you please confirm that you consent to electronic service using the email listed on your Complaint?

I will convey your settlement demand to Amazon and will get back to you.

Thanks,

Drew

Mr. Frederick:

Thank you. I have the removal to N.D. Cal. No. 3:26-cv-09249-ASK.

The August 31 state-court offer through September 14 is moot.

I agree Amazon's time to respond to the complaint is now September 8 under Rule 81(c), and I agree to extend that deadline, as to Amazon only, through and including September 22, 2026.

Please send the draft stipulation.

Yes — I consent to electronic service at bnn.cdl@gmail.com.

Mr. Newanforbi:

Thank you for agreeing to extend Amazon's deadline to respond to the Complaint to September 22, 2026. Attached for your review is a draft stipulation to this effect. Please let me know if the draft stipulation is acceptable and whether I have your permission to include your e-signature and file with the Court.
