BRENDAN NGEHSI NEWANFORBI
1455 Cat Tail Drive • Stockton, CA 95204
Telephone: (209) 801-4442 • E-mail: bnn.cdl@gmail.com

August 18, 2026

VIA ELECTRONIC MAIL ONLY

Chadwick L. Williams, Esq.
Kabat Chapman & Ozmer LLP
1150 Spring Street NW, Suite 800
Atlanta, GA 30309
E-mail: cwilliams@kcozlaw.com
Counsel for Defendant Randstad US, LLC

Re: Newanforbi v. Randstad US, LLC, et al. — Alameda County Superior Court, Case No. 26CV199902
Confirmation of 15-Day Extension of Randstad's Time to Respond — Through and Including September 15, 2026

Dear Mr. Williams:

Thank you for your call and for your e-mail of today's date. This letter confirms our agreement, as you have asked me to do.

The extension. I agree to extend the time for Defendant Randstad US, LLC to respond to the Complaint in the above-referenced action by fifteen (15) days, through and including September 15, 2026. Randstad was served on July 30, 2026, and its response would otherwise have been due August 31, 2026.

Scope. So that there is no misunderstanding later, this extension is limited as follows:

- It applies to Randstad US, LLC only. The RK Logistics Group, Inc., which was served the same day and is separately represented by Garcia & Gurney, ALC, is not covered by this agreement, and its response remains due August 31, 2026.
- It is a single fifteen-day extension. No further extension is implied, and none should be assumed. Any additional extension would need to be agreed separately and in writing.

- It waives nothing else. I reserve all rights and remedies, including the right to seek entry of default if no responsive pleading is filed on or before September 15, 2026, and the right to proceed against The RK Logistics Group, Inc. on its own schedule.
- It is an agreement between the parties. Because no stipulation has been filed, the Court's docket will continue to reflect the August 31, 2026 date. If you would prefer that the extension be placed on file, I will sign a stipulation and proposed order in the form you circulate.

Two housekeeping items. First, please confirm that you are authorized to accept service of papers on Randstad's behalf in this action, and that you consent to electronic service at cwilliams@kcozlaw.com under Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6. I will serve accordingly and will not burden your client with duplicate hard copies. Second, please note that the Amended Notice of Amount of Punitive Damages Sought under Code of Civil Procedure section 425.115 ($500,000.00 as to Randstad) was filed and accepted by the Court on August 6, 2026; personal service of that notice is in process, and I will provide you with a copy on request.

Opening demand. As you requested, I am transmitting my opening demand to settle as to Randstad under separate cover today. That demand is directed to Randstad alone and does not resolve, and is not offset by, any claim against The RK Logistics Group, Inc. If Randstad and RK Logistics wish to be heard on a global resolution, I am willing to consider one, but a global number will be a separate number and will not be assembled by allocating the Randstad demand between the two defendants.

Please confirm receipt of this letter. I appreciate your professional courtesy on the extension and expect to extend the same in return.

Very truly yours,

Brendan Ngehsi Newanforbi
Plaintiff, In Pro Per

Method of delivery: Electronic mail only.
cc (by e-mail): cwilliams@kcozlaw.com; file (Newanforbi v. Randstad US, LLC, et al., 26CV199902)